City wins state grant for sewer

The Texas Water Development Board closed a $35,000 loan on July 1 to the City of Cuero to finance the Cuero water utility system. A loan package from the Rice Water Pollution Control Revolving Fund will be used to purchase new equipments and to improve the existing wastewater treatment system, says the Cuero Public Utility Board. The improvements are necessary to maintain and improve the treatment system and reduce pollution in Cuero's waterways and to provide the basis for the development of a long-range plan of a proposed expansion project that could cost $250 million new jobs locally.

An overturned 18-wheeler on U.S. 79 resulted in one injury. The accident was one of only two in Panola County during a very deadly weekend on Texas highways.

Assessment decision could be made Thursday

The board of managers of the Panola County Fresh Water Supply District will hold a public meeting Thursday night to discuss the future of the Fresh Water Supply District. The board will also consider the possibility of a bond issue for the purpose of funding the construction of a new water treatment plant. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Panola County Courthouse. The public is invited to attend.

County bucks state trend

Two injured, none killed in holiday accidents

Brown County sheriff's deputies were on the scene of a two-car accident on Saturday afternoon on Texas Highway 279, about five miles north of the county line. A 19-year-old woman was airlifted to a hospital in Tyler with moderate injuries, and a 20-year-old man was treated at the scene and released. The accident occurred when the driver of a pickup truck crossed into the path of a car.

Youth 'army' brings good works to Carthage

A group of 10-12-year-old boys from Carthage, Texas, has organized a "Youth Army" to perform good deeds in the community. The group, which meets weekly to plan and carry out various projects, has already completed several projects, including planting a community garden, cleaning up a park, and providing food and clothing to the needy. The group is led by a local church pastor and is supported by local businesses and community leaders. The group plans to continue its good works and to start new projects in the future.

No new leads

Lofton investigation continues

Although no new leads have developed in the investigation of the murder of Carl Logan, a 25-year-old man, according to Panola County Sheriff's Chief Deputy John Phillips, 25, no clues have been found that point to a possible suspect. Phillips said, "We are continuing to look into all leads and possibilities, but so far we have not found anything that we can definitely confirm." The investigation is continuing and no further information is available at this time.

national magazine features wedding of Carthage duo

We are excited to announce that the couple, Elizabeth Scott and Matthew Johnson, has been featured in a national magazine for their beautiful wedding. The wedding took place on May 28th at the historic Carthage Courthouse, with the couple and their family and friends celebrating the day with a ceremony and reception.

Elizabeth and Matthew met while attending school at the University of Missouri, where they shared a common interest in photography. After graduating, they moved to New York City, where they continued to pursue their passion for photography, working as freelance photographers and contributing to various publications.

The couple's love for photography was evident in their wedding photos, which featured stunning pictures of Elizabeth and Matthew, their family, and their friends. The photos were taken by photographer Sarah White, who has been photographing weddings and events for over a decade.

The couple and their guests enjoyed a memorable day, filled with laughter and joy, as they celebrated their love and commitment to each other.

move your hands to the music

Music is a powerful tool that can move people to dance and enjoy the rhythm. Whether you're at a party, concert, or simply listening to music at home, it has the ability totransport you to another place and time.

Dancing to music can be therapeutic and stress-relieving. It is a way to release emotions and endorse movement.

Music has the power to connect us with others and create a sense of community.

It can inspire joy, laughter, and even expression.

So next time you hear a song that makes your heart sing, let it move you to dance and enjoy the moment.

If you think you have to wear glasses for astigmatism, you’ve been framed.

Our office is currently evaluating how a new procedure for astigmatism treatment works. As part of that evaluation, we are offering free consultations for those who have been prescribed glasses for their condition. The procedure is not available to everyone, but it could be a viable alternative for those who have been using glasses for their condition for many years. Dr. Dennis D. Golden, O.D., TheraOptix Optometrist at 1415 W. Main, says that the procedure has been successful for many patients who have been using glasses for their astigmatism.
