PC Nationals outlasts Howe with a 11-3 rout

Harrington, Humber hurl one-hitter

Americans surprise Huntsville

Harrington - Williams was a hero in the game, as his two home runs and three RBIs helped the Nationals to a decisive victory over Howe. The game was played at the Miller Park in Huntsville, and was a must-win for the Nationals to advance to the playoffs.

Harrington, Humber hurl one-hitter

The pitching duo of Harrington and Humber combined to throw a no-hitter, allowing the Nationals to win the game by a score of 11-0. Harrington threw 7 innings, striking out 10 batters and allowing just two hits.

Harrington, Humber hurl one-hitter

The Nationals' lineup was aggressive from the start, scoring 5 runs in the first inning. Harrington hit a two-run home run and Humber added a solo shot to give the Nationals a 5-0 lead.

Harrington, Humber hurl one-hitter

By the end of the game, the Nationals had scored 11 runs, with Harrington and Humber combining to strike out 16 batters. The game was a blowout, as the Nationals never looked back.

Harrington, Humber hurl one-hitter

The Nationals are now 8-1 for the season, and are looking to continue their winning streak. Harrington and Humber's pitching will be key for the Nationals as they look to advance to the playoffs.
