Mugr murder investigation narrows

by Sherry Knouse

As is the custom of the first day of a Carthage man is missing, according to police Chief Bill Wilson, who has been questioned several individuals involved with the case.

Wilson said that he and the Carthage police department have not released any specific information.

The police department is conducting a thorough investigation, involving interviews with several people who knew the victim.

The missing person was last seen on Main Street in Carthage, near the courthouse.

The police department is asking for the public's help in locating the missing person.

New businesses positive sign for local economy

By REBECCA MORGAN

The Carthage Daily News

With the opening of two new businesses in Carthage, the city's local economy is expected to receive a boost.

The first business, a coffee shop, opened last month on Main Street.

The second business, a small fitness center, opened two weeks ago on Elm Street.

Local officials are optimistic about the impact these businesses will have on the local economy.

"These are positive signs for our community," said Mayor Joe Smith. "We are欣喜 of the new opportunities these businesses will bring to our town."
MASH Bash blood drive successful

An annual celebration hosted by the MASH Bash Committee at the historic Tom Styer Library in Carthage, Texas, marked the 20th anniversary of the blood drive. This year, the goal was to raise at least 200 pints of blood, and the community responded with enthusiasm.

The blood drive kicked off with a press conference and a special guest appearance by former MASH actor B. J. Hunnicut. The event was attended by local officials and community leaders, who emphasized the importance of blood donation.

East Texas gas fields lead marketing trend

A new era in the natural gas business is dawning in the East Texas region as companies tap into the abundant reserves of natural gas in the area. The gas, called "tight gas," is located in reservoirs that are much smaller and more difficult to access than conventional gas deposits. Companies are using advanced technology and new drilling techniques to extract the gas from these tight reservoirs.

The trend is not limited to East Texas. Tight gas fields are being discovered in other parts of the country, leading to a surge in demand for natural gas. This hasprompted companies to invest heavily in new infrastructure and marketing strategies to meet the growing demand.

We Receive The Lord's Blessing For Doing A Day's Work

Since time began, a little promise said,
Each step has done the work to earn his bread;
And with faith, there's strength in his prayer,
because rest compassed by sleep.

And then I rose, I saw the Lord's face,
And fire burned like the sun in the sky.

And now I know, the Lord's power lies
In the work we do, to keep the faith alive.

A season of prayer brings comfort,
We know there's time to rest under God's wings.

If this season is to work and pray,
We've earned the right to rest on Labor Day.
