Rumors spark county action

By SHERRY KOONCE
The Panola County Commissioners Court took the unusual step of adopting a public statement addressing rumors circulating in the community that two guns were and a second story had escaped in the county jail.

The statement, which was signed by all the county commissioners, was released in response to rumors of escape attempts and kupped, juvenile and severe mental patients who had been released from the county jail.

In recent weeks, various individuals have reported seeing a group of people walking around the jail area.

"The jail is under supervision at all times," said Sheriff William M. Thompson. "We are constantly monitoring the area and have set up additional security measures to prevent any potential escape attempts."

The jail has taken various steps to address the recent rumors, including increased patrols and the implementation of new security protocols.

The statement was signed by all the county commissioners except Commissioner Betty Williams, who was not in her office at the time.

The statement was released in order to assure the public that the jail is being properly monitored and that any rumors of escape attempts are unfounded.

The Panola County Commissioners Court will continue to monitor the situation and take appropriate action to ensure the safety and security of the jail and its inmates.

Crash victim suffers fatal heart attack

A woman who was involved in a collision Sunday morning died after suffering a heart attack.

According to the Panola County Sheriff's Office, the victim, a 42-year-old woman, died at the hospital after being transported to the emergency room.

The accident occurred on Highway 371, near the Panola County line, when the victim's vehicle collided with another vehicle.

The Panola County Sheriff's Office is investigating the incident and will release more information as it becomes available.

County record keeping discussed

Panola County Commissioners met earlier this week to discuss the county's record keeping practices.

The county has been using paper-based records for many years, but the commissioners agreed that it was time to invest in more modern technology.

The county has received a grant from the state to implement an electronic record keeping system.

The system will allow for easier access to records and will improve the county's ability to comply with state and federal regulations.

The commissioners also discussed the need for additional funding to support the implementation of the new system.

"We need to make sure that we are using our resources wisely," said Commissioner Betty Williams. "We want to ensure that the taxpayers' money is being used effectively to benefit the county as a whole.

"We will work with the county's financial advisors to ensure that we are making the best possible decisions for the county.

"We will continue to monitor the situation and will make any necessary adjustments as needed.

The Panola County Commissioners will hold a special meeting in the near future to discuss the progress of the new record keeping system.

Amendment required to legalize casino gambling

Attorney General Morales rules

HIGHLIGHTS

By Sophia Williams / Staff Writer

Democratic Post of Texas

Central claim, is a primary weapon in its campaign against the current administration. "Our senators and representatives have the right to be represented," said Bob Stickney, a Democrat from Texas, who said he was instrumental in getting the amendment approved. "The amendment will help us to continue the fight for our rights, and it will help us to get our fair share of the money that is being spent on our behalf."

The amendment was approved by a vote of 75-25 in the House of Representatives and by a vote of 36-22 in the Senate. The amendment will now go to Governor Mark White for his signature. The governor is expected to sign the amendment within the next few days.

The amendment will take effect on September 1, 1994. It will allow the state to collect a tax on casino gambling, which is currently not allowed under state law. The tax will be used to fund education and other state programs.

Carthage police are looking into an assault that occurred in a local night club.

A 30-year-old man was assaulted late one night last week at a local night club. The victim was in a bar with four other men when a group of four other men entered the bar and began to cause a disturbance. The victim and his friends tried to diffuse the situation but were met with more confrontations.

According to the police report, the victim was punched in the face and then kicked in the chest. He was taken to Carthage General Hospital for treatment and released later that night.

Dawgs should expect trouble from Dragons

For Nacogdoches and Carthage, Friday's nondistrict contest could be the spark that ignites an exciting season.

Carthage appeared to be on a roll after winning three of its first four games, but for the Dragons, it was just a matter of time before things started to unravel. The Dawgs have struggled against the Carthage defense, which has held them scoreless in four of their games.

But for Carthage, the Dawgs have been a bit of a letdown. With new additions to their lineup, the Dawgs have been struggling to adjust to the new system. The Dawgs have been relying on their defense to carry them through, but against Carthage, they may be in for a surprise.

The Dawgs will be tasked with containing the Carthage offense, which has scored over 20 points in each of its last three games. The Dawgs will need to find a way to slow down the Carthage offense and force turnovers if they hope to come away with a victory.

Carthage's success in nondistrict contests has been a key component in their recent success. The Dawgs will need to find a way to get off to a quick start and establish their rhythm early in the game if they hope to come away with a win.

The game is set for 7:30 p.m. at Carthage's new stadium. Both teams are looking forward to the match-up and hope to come away with a victory.
