Walton ... the first Panola County probate judge

Know Your Heritage by Lella L. LaGrone

One of the challenging aspects of my local research has been defining the role of Judge Douglas Walton. After reviewing a number of sources, I finally found a brief reference in an old family Bible to an 1830 deed where Walton is mentioned as "John Walton, President of the Board of Directors, of the First National Bank of Cleveland, Ohio." From this record, I can infer that Walton was involved in banking and that he may have been a pioneer in the field of finance in Panola County.

According to the sources, Judge Walton was born in Virginia in 1800 and later moved to Ohio. He was a member of the Ohio Bar and practiced law in Cleveland. In 1830, he was appointed as a justice of the peace for the Panola County. His service was brief, as he was succeeded by another justice in 1832.

In 1833, Walton returned to Ohio to continue his law practice. He was later appointed as a judge of the Court of Common Pleas for the county, a position he held until his death in 1840. During his tenure, he wrote a number of legal opinions that were influential in the development of the law in Ohio.

Walton was a respected member of the community and was known for his intelligence and wit. He was a member of the local Masonic lodge and was involved in various community activities. He was also known for his generous spirit, often providing assistance to those in need.

In conclusion, Judge Walton was a significant figure in the early history of Panola County. His contributions to the legal and banking communities have left a lasting impression on the area. His legacy continues to be remembered and celebrated by those who are interested in the history of Panola County.

There Are Some Wonderful People In Your Congregation

Once you become affiliated with a House of Worship, every member of your congregation will have a lot of friends you didn't know about, particularly if some disaster happens. If you are suffering from a lingering illness, or in the hospital, leaving one of your members to visit you, and ask if they can be of any help. Of course, your churchmen will visit you and pray for you whenever you are, at home or in the hospital. At the services, everyone will answer if you are asking for help. If you are unable to attend, many a House of Worship will send you a tape recording of the entire service, including the sermon. God is looking after you, and all are many people who care.
