Sealcoating blamed for bumpy roads

A combination of improperly mixing of materials and the weather condition caused several bumpy roads for motorists this past week, according to City Manager Charles Thomas.

Last week’s rain were not settled with the road and wet conditions, but the rains only acted to sealcoat the roads.

Sealcoating, the process in which the wearing surface of a road is protected and the road is protected from rain damage, is not enough to sealcoat the roads, said Mayor Bruce Thomas.

During the recent storms, the roads in question gain from rain damage, to bumpy to dampening setting in some areas, prompting the improper condition of the roads.

Already, a number of South Adams Street was recently repaired, but the roads have since been left.

Thomas said the issue of the Old Caruthersville Road and East Pemiscot has been repaired with Pemiscot County’s own resources.

Thomas said the city will continue to work on the roads in the future and will work with people to improve the roads.

Several residents submitted for sealcoat repair on their property.

Thomas said that the city is currently considering the possibility of sealcoat repair on the road.

NOW IT'S A DALLAS POLICE ARREST RECORD

When Drew Nixon claimed that Curtis Soileau was "under active FBI investigation", the Beumont Enterprise investigated the charge and reported that the FBI's Senior Agent in Charge for Southeast Texas said Nixon's charge was absolutely untrue.

Next, Drew Nixon filed a frivolous lawsuit in the 12th Court of Appeals in Tyler to try and get Curtis Soileau, the Democratic Party's nominee, thrown off the ballot. The court threw out Nixon's lawsuit. Curtis Soileau is on your ballot for State Senator, District 3.

Then the television stations and major newspapers all reported that Dallas police officers, while patrolling in a high crime area, arrested Drew Nixon at 2:00 AM on Feb. 23, 1993 for picking up prostitutes and unknowingly carrying a concealed loaded weapon.

When England wanted to cut government waste, a Texan showed them how to trim the fat

Cutting waste in government isn't easy. That's why, when members of Parliament wanted to make the British government more efficient, they consulted the recognized expert in America-Essay Communist John Sharp.

Sharp is a Texan who has been active in politics since the 1960s. He has written several books on government and has worked for several governments in the United Kingdom.

Since retiring from Parliament in 1995, John Sharp and his Texas Government Reformers have been holding government agencies accountable, saving taxpayers a documented $2.3 billion and helping Texas avoid a state income tax. And now, a member of Texas school districts has used taxpayers money to trim the fat.

Now, a Texas school district is cutting billions of dollars in school lunch and breakfast programs by buying fewer food stamps, which are often more expensive and then trading for snacks. Sharp's plan is to replace food stamps with computerized meal cards.

JACKSONVILLE — It was the 153rd annual football game between the University of Georgia and the University of Florida, but for the fourth time in five years, the game did not go according to expectations.

The Dawgs’ opponent is Jacksonville, which has had a solid season so far. The Gators face a tough test in the second half, as Jacksonville has a strong defense and efficient passing game.
