Lady Dogs may be girls' powerhouse

Carthage coach Todd Trammell, senior standouts on the staff, are the two key ingredients in the Lady Dogs' success.

Carthage coach Todd Trammell believes his team has the potential to be a powerhouse this year. "We have a lot of talent on the court," Trammell said. "And we have a lot of experience."

The Lady Dogs are led by seniors Brittany Johnson and Alexis Williams, who both scored in double figures in Carthage's season opener. Johnson, a guard, scored 13 points, while Williams, a forward, scored 12.

"They've been with us since they were in middle school," Trammell said. "They've been working hard and they're ready to go."
