County determines policy on leases of medical building

A method of evaluating possible county-owned space at Porta- nac General Hospital is being considered by the Porta- nac County Board of Commissioners. It is one of several proposals being evaluated for a possible location of the Porta- nac County Hospital. The hospital would be located near the town of Porta- nac, and would be built on a site currently owned by the Porta- nac City School Board.

According to County Judge John Christ, the purpose of the proposal is to ensure that the hospital is built in a manner that is consistent with the needs of the community.

If the hospital were to be built, Christ said, the hospital would be built on a site that would be in close proximity to existing facilities.

In addition, the county has established a policy that all facilities would be located in the county.

As part of the proposal, Christ said, the hospital would be built on a site that is close to existing facilities.

The following policies were approved:

Approval of bond and construction loans

Approval of construction plans

The following policies were not approved:

Approval of construction plans for the proposed hospital

Dedication ceremony held in memory of warranty honorees

A dedication ceremony was held today to honor warranty honorees at the new Porta- nac General Hospital. The ceremony was attended by family members, friends, and community leaders.

The hospital included in the dedication is a regional hospital for the Porta- nac community.

TU plans personnel cutbacks

TU Electric is seeking ways to boost productivity and reduce costs. The company is evaluating various options to improve employee productivity, including changes to the company's structure, and changes to the company's policies.

TU is also considering ways to improve employee productivity by reducing the amount of time employees spend on non-core activities, such as meetings and training.

Christmas tree pickup scheduled

The Porta- nac General Hospital will be holding a Christmas tree pickup on December 22. The hospital will be collecting trees from residents and businesses in the Porta- nac area.

The hospital will be accepting donations of trees, which will be used to raise funds for the hospital.

Thought-provoking display fights holiday drunk driving

A Porta- nac County man is hoping to raise awareness about the dangers of drinking and driving. He created a display to show how dangerous it can be to drive while under the influence of alcohol.

The display, which is located on US 372, features messages about the dangers of drunk driving, and includes images of people who have been injured or killed in accidents.

Police to be honored for efforts to reduce DWIs

Local officials are urging residents to be safe during the holiday season. They are calling on drivers to avoid drinking and drive sober.

The efforts are part of a campaign to reduce the number of drunk driving incidents in the Porta- nac area.

The campaign includes the use of public service announcements, and other outreach efforts to raise awareness about the dangers of drunk driving.
Texas sales tax rebates increase

Comptroller delivers monthly report

"The sales tax rebates increase is due to the state of Texas having a larger taxable base than in previous years," said Comptroller Henry Crumpton. "This increase is expected to continue in the future as the state's economy grows." The rebates, which are distributed monthly, are designed to help local governments fund essential services and projects.

PGH board agenda set

The Pittsburgh Gas & Electric Board has set their agenda for the upcoming meeting. The meeting will include discussions on the company's financial reports, safety procedures, and the implementation of new technology. The board will also discuss potential changes to the company's policies and procedures.

Calendar of events

The calendar of events for the upcoming year is filled with various activities and events. The events range from cultural performances to sporting events, and are scheduled throughout the year. The calendar is available for download on the company's website.

Phones for inmates, kids banned from truck beds plans proposed

HIGHLIGHTS

The Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation has set the beginning of the year to coincide with the beginning of the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation's new criminal justice system. The new program will allow the Texas Department of Licensing and Regulation to provide phone service to inmates, and kids banned from truck beds. The program is designed to prevent the spread of illnesses and diseases, and to encourage inmates to communicate with their families.

TEXAS PREDICTION ASSOCIATION

First Things First

By Tula Brooks

There is a song in my Methodist family that goes, "You can say at Christmas, love all your life, live, die, and go on." This song was written by the late Dr. John B. Stoddard, a Methodist minister and one of the founding fathers of the Methodist Church. The song was first sung at Christmas Eve services in 1946, and has since become a beloved Christmas carol. The lyrics of the song are: "You can say at Christmas, love all your life, live, die, and go on." The song is a reminder that life is full of ups and downs, and that we should not be afraid to love and live fully, even in the face of adversity.

Lai finds challenge, joy in port ministry

By Larry Nunn

A ministry is "a daily challenge,..." says Lai, who has found enjoyment in her ministry at the Port of Beaumont, Texas. "It's a ministry of giving and receiving," she said. "People come to the port for different reasons. Some are on vacation, some are on business, and some are simply passing through. But no matter the reason, Lai is always ready to help them.

Adams Card of Thanks

The Adams family would like to express their gratitude to the community for their support during this time of transition. We would like to thank all of our friends, family, and neighbors for their kind words and acts of kindness. We are grateful for the love and support we have received.

CIS department keeps pace with evolving world

The Computer Information Systems (CIS) Department at Panola College is undergoing exciting changes to keep pace with the rapidly evolving technology environment.

The CIS Department recently acquired powerful microcomputer systems and software that provide state-of-the-art working facilities for all CIS classes at Cartersville, Woodstock, and Newnan. The department has also purchased new software packages, including Windows and Microsoft Office, which are now available to all students.

"In Cartersville, Center, and Newnan, computer labs are now equipped with state-of-the-art equipment," said William E. Hall, chairman of the CIS Division.

Panola College CIS students represent a broad spectrum of people with diverse interests, needs, and goals. Course offerings include basic computer literacy, programming, database management, and network administration.

"Whatever your goal, the CIS Department has the right computer course for you," said Hall. "With computer literacy, we offer workshops and training sessions for businesses and individuals who want to improve their job skills and employability.

"We encourage our students to explore the possibilities that computer technology offers.

Physical education courses geared for all students

The Panola College Physical Education Department offers a variety of activity courses for traditional students, as well as off-campus students. Activity courses include aerobics, weight training, volleyball, and swimming. Classes are offered on the Cartersville and Newnan campuses.

"Students have the opportunity to participate in a variety of physical activities that will help them maintain a healthy lifestyle," said Dr. John A. Walker, director of the Physical Education Department.

"Students are encouraged to participate in activities that promote physical fitness and wellness." Physical education courses are designed to meet the needs of all students and are geared toward general fitness, aerobics, and weight training.

"We are pleased to offer these courses to our students," said Walker.

"The physical education courses are designed to meet the needs of all students and are geared toward general fitness, aerobics, and weight training.

Journalism courses designed for both majors, non-majors

In the rapidly changing world of news and media, Panola College offers a unique program dedicated to teaching students how to write, edit, and produce news stories and other content.

"Journalism is not just about writing news stories," said Patricia L. Lawrence, coordinator of the Journalism Program. "It's about understanding the world around us and how to communicate that understanding to others.

"We offer a variety of courses that teach students how to write, edit, and produce news stories and other content. Our courses include reporting, writing, and editing, as well as multimedia production.

"We encourage students to explore the possibilities that journalism offers.

Begin a successful secretarial career at Panola College

Whether you desire a position as a secretary, bookkeeper, typist, transcriber, secretary or administrative assistant, Panola College offers courses which will prepare you for the competitive job market. All of these courses are part of the curriculum of the Office Systems Technology program.

"Basic typing is a necessary skill for any office position," said Dr. Lawrence. "Our courses in secretarial technology, word processing, and computerized office procedures will prepare you for a successful career.

"We offer a variety of courses in secretarial technology, word processing, and computerized office procedures. Our courses include stenography, word processing, and computerized office procedures. Students are prepared with the skills necessary to succeed in a variety of office settings.

TASP INFORMATION
Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP)

Texas Education Agency (TEA) requires that all public high school students in the state take the TASP test at least once before graduation. The TASP test is designed to assess students' skills in reading, writing, and mathematics. Students who do not pass the TASP test will need to take the STAAR (State of Texas Assessments of Academic Readiness) test in order to graduate.

1. What is the Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP) test, and do I have to take it?

TASP is a test measuring a student's skill levels in reading, writing, and mathematics. The test is administered to all public high school students before they graduate. The TASP test is required by the Texas Education Agency (TEA) for students to graduate from high school.

2. When do I have to take the TASP test?

Students are required to take the TASP test at least once before graduation. The test is typically administered during the spring of the senior year. Students who do not pass the TASP test must take it again before they graduate.

3. What happens if I have already taken the TASP test and passed it?

If you have already taken the TASP test and passed it, you will not be required to take it again. However, if you pass the test and then fail it, you will need to retake it.

4. How often can I retake the TASP test?

Students are allowed to retake the TASP test once. If you do not pass the test the first time, you can retake it during the same school year. You will need to demonstrate improvement in your scores to retake the test.

5. What happens if I don't pass the TASP test?

If you do not pass the TASP test, you will need to retake it in the next school year. You will need to improve your scores in order to pass the test.

6. How can I prepare for the TASP test?

To prepare for the TASP test, students should review their course materials, practice with sample test questions, and seek additional help if needed. Students can also use TASP practice tests and study guides to prepare for the test.

7. What if I don't pass the TASP test and I have already taken it?

If you have already taken the TASP test and failed it, you will need to retake it during the next school year. You will need to improve your scores to pass the test.

8. What if I'm not in high school?

If you are not currently in high school, you will need to take the TASP test if you are required to do so by your district or school.

9. What if I'm homeschooled?

Homeschooled students are required to take the TASP test. Students who are homeschooled should contact their local school district to determine testing requirements.

10. What if I'm not in Texas?

If you are not currently in Texas, you will need to take the TASP test if you are required to do so by your district or state. You may need to contact your local school district for information on testing requirements.

11. What if I'm not in a school district?

If you are not currently in a school district, you will need to take the TASP test if you are required to do so by your state or local education agency. You may need to contact your education agency for information on testing requirements.

12. What if I'm not a U.S. citizen?

If you are not a U.S. citizen, you may be required to take the TASP test. Contact your school district for information on testing requirements.

13. What if I'm not a student?

If you are not currently a student, you will need to take the TASP test if you are required to do so by your district or state. You may need to contact your local school district for information on testing requirements.

14. What if I'm not a resident of Texas?

If you are not currently a resident of Texas, you will need to take the TASP test if you are required to do so by your district or state. You may need to contact your local school district for information on testing requirements.

15. Where can I find more information about the TASP test?

For more information about the TASP test, visit the Texas Education Agency (TEA) website at https://www.tea.texas.gov or contact your local school district for information on testing requirements.
