Divers search for clues in disappearances

By SHERIY KNOOCE

New bloodhounds and the employment of two Panola County residents have added some hope to the efforts of law enforcement officials in a case that has already received considerable media attention.

For the past two weeks, divers have been following every lead they could find in an effort to locate the body of 17-year-old Scotty Allen, who was last seen on April 6. Allen was reported missing by his parents on April 7.

The search has been led by the Texas Colorado River Search and Rescue Team, headquartered in Houston. The team has been joined by divers from the Panola County Sheriff’s Office, the United States Coast Guard, and the Panola County Search and Rescue Team.

The search has focused on the area around the Mabank Dam, where Scotty Allen was last seen.

Divers searched the area around the dam for several days, but have so far been unsuccessful.

At this point, the search continues, but officials are optimistic that they will find Scotty Allen soon.

Group asks for deeds to lake lots

By SHERIY KNOOCE

The group of residents who have been trying to secure deeds to their lake lots has been making progress in recent weeks.

The group has been working with the Panola County Board of Commissioners to get deeds issued to the lake lots.

The group has been told that they will be contacted soon with information on how to proceed with the issuance of deeds.

Faculty endorses four-day week

By LATISHA HODGES

A committee of Panola College faculty members has recommended that the college consider the possibility of implementing a four-day week schedule for faculty members.

The committee was formed in response to a survey of faculty members, who expressed interest in the possibility of a four-day week schedule.

The committee is currently working on developing a plan for a four-day week schedule.

Williams sentenced for abandoning toddler

By SHERIY KNOOCE

A 37-year-old man was sentenced to 20 years in prison on Thursday for abandoning a toddler in a vehicle.

The man was found guilt on two counts of abandonment of a child under the age of 15.

The case was the result of a 1996 incident, in which the man abandoned a toddler in a vehicle on a hot day.

City enters second phase of clean up operation

By SHERIY KNOOCE

The city has entered the second phase of its clean up operation, which is expected to last until May.

The first phase of the clean up operation, which was completed in March, involved the removal of debris and trash from the areas affected by Hurricane Harvey.

The second phase of the clean up operation, which is expected to last until May, will involve the removal of larger pieces of debris and the cleaning of the streets.

The city has allocated $500,000 for the second phase of the clean up operation.

The city will be working closely with the Texas Department of Transportation to ensure that the work is completed in a timely manner.

Of those property owners in astendance, most agreed to secure their buildings within 30 days in-

The group has been working with the city to get the necessary permits and to ensure that the work is completed in a safe and efficient manner.

The group has been told that they will be contacted soon with information on how to proceed with the issuance of deeds.
From Hardscrabble' on stage

Stagecoach Al Property

Hardscrabble is a new play by Al Property at the Actors' Theatre of Louisville. It is a powerful and poignant portrayal of the struggles and hopes of the American farmer during the Great Depression. The story focuses on family life and the challenges faced by a farm family during this difficult time in American history. The actors bring this story to life with a raw and emotional performance, making it a deeply moving experience for the audience.
Pleasant Hoskins settles at Youngblood

Know Your Heritage by Leila B. LaCrome

The Phoenix Hill Hoskins family are not only one of the enduring phenomena in the area but one of the most important. For generations, Pleasant Hoskins lived in the Phoenix Hill area. His descendents include John and Edith Hoskins, who were the first to own a small home near the town. They lived in the area for many years and raised their family there. Pleasant Hoskins died in 1932, but his descendents continued to live in the area. They were descendants of Pleasant Hoskins, and they continued to live in Phoenix Hill. Pleasant Hoskins was a very important man, and his descendents continue to be a part of the area's history.

Indian's chief has 47 in 102-94 shootout

McCown lights it up as Tribe edges Dawgs

When Tech's head coach Mike McCown arrived at the game, there was no doubt who was the star of the show. His 47-point performance overshadowed every other player on the court.

McCown started the game with a bang, scoring 14 points in the first quarter. He continued to dominate throughout the game, with a series of impressive moves and a steady flow of three-pointers. By the end of the night, he had scored a remarkable 47 points, leading his team to a 102-94 victory against the Dawgs.

McCown's performance was not only a personal achievement but also a team effort. His teammates played well, with several contributing significant points to the cause. The game was a testament to the talent and dedication of the Tribe's basketball team.

The Dawgs, on the other hand, were outmatched from the start. They struggled to keep up with McCown's scoring and were ultimately unable to overcome the deficit.

It was a night to remember for McCown and the Tribe, as they took the win and continued on their path to glory.

Ponies remain mired in conference's cellar

The only constant in the Horsemen's Conference is Florida's...

While the rest of the circuit has been rolling, the Gators simply have been holding steady.

Their 9-3 record is 4 games better than what the Bucknelians, who are 5-7, did last season and as good as anything Florida has ever done.

In 14 of the 15 years the Gators have played in the conference, Florida has been .500 or better, with the one exception being a 5-7 season in 1961.

The Gators have made the most of their situation, but without getting too much out of it.

Alumni strikes country gold

Linda Davis remembers Panola as she soars to fame

Linda Davis is riding a wave of success in the country music field. "I have many wonderful memories of my time at Panola College. It was a fun place to be and made many friends during that time. Country music always had a special place in my heart," she said.

Linda engaged in various activities during her time at Panola, including playing in the Panola College Band and participating in the annual Homecoming festivities.

Linda's success in the country music industry prompted her to return to Panola College and celebrate her accomplishments.

Linda's family and friends were thrilled to see her success and continue to support her throughout her career.

HOMECOMING '95
Dance to that 'big band' sound

Local orchestra featured at alumni dance

Goldie name from the '50s will drift through the Panola College Ballroom on Friday, Feb. 25.

That evening, the Band of Swing will be featured in the Homecoming Alumni Dance.

The dance is scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Tickets are $5 for adults, $2 for students and free for their IDs.

The 17-piece Sounds of Swing is known throughout the Ark-La-Tex for its big band sound. They feature songs from such famous bands as Count Basie, Harry James and Tommy Dorsey.

"We tried to have a nostalgia program," said Joe Davis, a member of the Sounds of Swing. "These pieces should be familiar to former students."

The orchestra was originally established in the early 1950s, it was reconnected two years ago.

Brown, one of the original members of the group, said the group was "just a bunch of guys who wanted to play for personal satisfaction." That may be how it started, but since its inception, the orchestra's popularity has grown.

The orchestra has performed all over the Ark-La-Tex, from Lufkin to Beaumont, providing great openings to concerts at the University of Texas at Aransas and Texas A&M.

The band is directed by students who are also members of the orchestra.
