Sale of lots legal, Dowd says

By LAURA NEGRI

Property currently leased along Lake Maryuide, 10.5 miles south of

Carthage, is to be sold by the Panola County Farm Credit Society with the proceeds going to the builder of the Panola County Fresh Water Bayou bridge.

With no decision and no vote on the matter, however, the board effectively adjourned the meeting, after the president formally closed the call. In closing, President John R. Dowd told the board that the result of the meeting is the results of his research into the issue of selling the lease in two to four sections.

In his report to the board, Dowd said that, although various members of the board were present when the lease was taken under consideration, it is legal to sell the land. Dowd said that the board must advertise the sale in the newspaper and submit a report to the board. Dowd said that a committee has been formed to handle the sale.

Dowd said that the board would like to sell the lease in two to four sections, and that they would like to sell the lease in two to four sections.

Texas had wars of the archives
Know Your Heritage by Leila B. LaGrone

In 1835, the years "Texas" were written on the map of the United States, the Republic of Texas was established. This was a time of great turmoil and conflict, as the new nation struggled to gain its independence from Mexico. The battles of the Texas Revolution, including the Battle of San Jacinto, were fought in defense of the Republic of Texas. The battle is considered a turning point in the war, as it resulted in the defeat of the Mexican Army and the establishment of the Republic of Texas.

In 1845, the United States annexed Texas and in 1846, the United States declared war on Mexico. The war, known as the Mexican-American War, lasted until 1848 and resulted in the United States gaining control of much of the southwestern United States.

In 1861, the United States entered into the American Civil War, fought between the northern and southern states. The war resulted in the abolition of slavery and the reunification of the United States.

In 1876, the United States entered into the Indian Wars, fought against various Native American tribes. The wars resulted in the forced relocation of many Native American tribes to reservations.

In 1898, the United States entered into the Spanish-American War, fought against Spain. The war resulted in the United States gaining control of much of the Philippines and Guam.

In 1917, the United States entered into World War I, fought against Germany and its allies. The war resulted in the defeat of the Central Powers and the establishment of the United States as a major world power.

In 1941, the United States entered into World War II, fought against Germany, Japan, and Italy. The war resulted in the defeat of the Axis Powers and the establishment of the United States as a major world power.

In 1955, the United States entered into the Korean War, fought against North Korea and its allies. The war resulted in a stalemate and the establishment of the Korean Peninsula as it is today.

In 1968, the United States entered into the Vietnam War, fought against North Vietnam and its allies. The war resulted in the defeat of the North Vietnamese and the establishment of a communist government in Vietnam.

In 1975, the United States entered into the Persian Gulf War, fought against Iraq. The war resulted in the defeat of Iraq and the establishment of a United Nations-led coalition in the region.

In 1990, the United States entered into the Gulf War, fought against Iraq. The war resulted in the defeat of Iraq and the establishment of a United Nations-led coalition in the region.

In 2001, the United States entered into the War on Terror, fought against al-Qaeda and its affiliates. The war resulted in the defeat of al-Qaeda and the establishment of United States-led coalitions in the region.

In 2020, the United States entered into the COVID-19 pandemic, fought against the coronavirus. The pandemic resulted in the establishment of a global coalition in the region.

Explaining child abuse and neglect

A letter from your child

Dear Mom and Dad,

Thank you for letting me be your aid in an independent, self-sufficient, caring adult. Thank you for teaching me how to read and write, and how to care for myself. Thank you for showing me how to be a good person and how to be kind to others. Thank you for being my best friends.

Love always,
Your Child

The agonizing causes of emotional abuse in children

Emotional abuse is commonly defined as a pattern of behavior that can include: emotional gaslighting, emotional manipulation, emotional withdrawal, emotional isolation, emotional humiliation, emotional rejection, emotional dominance, emotional disconnection, emotional invalidation, and emotional emotionalisolation. These patterns of behavior can create a sense of inadequacy, confusion, and helplessness for the child.

The Starfish Flinger

As the old man walked the beach at dawn, he noticed a young man ahead of him picking up starfish and flinging them into the sea. Finally catching up with the youth, he asked him why he was doing this. The answer was that the stranded starfish would die if left until the morning sun.

But the beach goes on for miles, and there are millions of starfish," countered the old man. "How can your effort make any difference?"

The young man looked at the starfish in his hand and then threw it to safety in the waves.

"It makes a difference to this one," he said.

TAKE TIME OUT!
DON'T TAKE IT OUT ON YOUR CHILD.

The Pancake Etceteras Sunday April 19, 1986 - Page 7

Above continued from page 6

As he was lying in the bed, he awoke with a start. The room was filled with the sound of a loud, blaring television. He tried to turn it off, but the volume was too high. Suddenly, a figure appeared in the doorway. It was his mother.

"What do you want?" he asked, trying to sound angry.

"I came to see you," she said, looking concerned.

"What's wrong?" he asked, realizing something must be wrong.

"I just wanted to see how you're doing," she said, sitting down beside him.

He told her everything that had happened and how he felt.

"I'm so sorry," she said, tears in her eyes.

He felt a wave of relief wash over him.

"I'm glad you came," he said, feeling better already.

She hugged him tight.

"I love you," she said, kissing him on the cheek.

He felt loved and cared for, which was something he had been missing.

"Thank you," he said, feeling grateful.

She smiled and left, leaving him alone again.

He lay there, feeling peaceful for the first time in days. He knew he still had a long way to go, but he felt like he was making progress.

"I'm strong," he thought to himself, feeling motivated.

He pulled the blanket up over his head and closed his eyes, feeling safe and protected.

The next day, he went back to school and continued his life, feeling grateful for his mother's love and support.

He knew he still had a long way to go, but he felt like he was making progress.

What do you like?

- Did you have fun today?
- Do you want to talk about it?
- Do you feel happy?
- What made you happy?

Train up a child in the way he should go and when he is old, he will not depart from it.

- Do you feel safe now?
- Do you feel loved?
- Do you feel important?
- Do you feel respected?
When children misbehave, let them know that you dislike what they did and NOT who they are. Protect our most precious resource. CHILDREN ARE OUR FUTURE... KEEP OUR FUTURE SAFE.
