Summer reading program to begin

Monday marks the beginning of a season of adventure in fiction pieces for local youngsters.

The Library Bureau Library will initiate its extensive reading program today.

Nina Paliy, librarian, said the library can expect about 2,000 cards to be deposited by students.

The program this year will be marked by the inclusion of two additional clubs: one for young nursery schoolers and one for teachers.

The library has received 300 books since the beginning of the year.

The program is to continue
throughout the summer.

Landowners group rates companies on performance

By SHERREY KOFFEE

Reports of a survey initiated by
the Pacific County Royalty Commission show that a diversified group of landowners
is interested in developing more programs for the improvement of the
industry.

The survey, which was done by the Pacific County Royalty Commission, showed that a large number of landowners are interested in developing a program that will help improve the
industry.

Youth group visits bombing site

Several local residents watched as a group of children visited the scene of the violent incident on March 21. The children were led around the site by a local teen who showed them the remnants of the explosion. They were also told about the investigation that is ongoing in the area.

Agriculture lunch planned

Local farmers and business owners will be invited to attend the annual agriculture lunch to discuss the recent developments in the field. The lunch will be held at the local courthouse on April 10. A variety of topics will be covered, including the latest trends in agriculture and the challenges faced by farmers.

Courthouse news

The local courthouse is currently undergoing renovations to improve the facilities. The public is encouraged to visit the courthouse on a regular basis to learn about the latest developments and to attend court proceedings.

Lee named as Who’s Who

Lee Davis has been named as Who’s Who in America. This is the first time that a local resident has been honored with this prestigious title. Davis is a well-known business owner in the area and is highly respected for his contributions to the community.

Hospital news

The local hospital is expanding its facilities to accommodate the growing population. The hospital is scheduled to open in the next few months. A grand opening event will be held, and the public is invited to attend.

Panola County honors her fallen heroes

Know Your Heritage by Leila B. LaGrone

On the monument which stands in the front yard of Volume is a beautiful stone marker. The monument was dedicated on November 11, 1946, in honor of those who served in World War II.

Panola County has a rich history of service and dedication to the country. The county was established in 1833, and its courthouse, which dates back to the early 1900s, is still in use today.

The county’s history is not just about its military service. Panola County has also been a place of industry and culture. It is home to a number of farms, ranches, and businesses that contribute to the local economy.

The monument serves as a reminder of the sacrifices made by those who served, and it stands as a symbol of the county’s commitment to freedom and democracy.

SPECIAL TO THE PANOLA WATCHMAN

Vincent, Brumbaugh wed

Key Lee Vincent and Deanna Brumbaugh were married on a beautiful spring day at the First Baptist Church of Brookeland. The couple said their vows under the Watching Eyes of God and were surrounded by family and friends.

The wedding ceremony was followed by a reception at the Brookeland Country Club, where guests enjoyed delicious food and speeches from the couple’s loved ones.

The newlyweds plan to return to their lives in a future filled with love and happiness.

The Panola Watchman

STRENGTH FOR LIVING

A fired sad day in my life. I guess
I knew I was doing the right thing, but I wasn’t sure if I could do it. I was scared, I was confused. I didn’t know what to expect. But I did it.

I stood up and faced my fears. I thought about my family, my friends, my dreams. I knew I had to be strong. I had to find a way to overcome my fears.

I went for a walk in the park. I thought about my past, my present, my future. I knew I had to be strong. I had to find a way to
overcome my fears.

I sat down on a bench and cried.
I thought about my past, my present, my future. I knew I had to be strong. I had to find a way to
overcome my fears.

I realized that I had to find a way to be strong. I had to find a way to overcome my fears. I had to embrace my mistakes and learn from them.

I’m still Learning to be strong. I’m still Learning to overcome my fears. But I’m getting better. I’m getting stronger.

I’m grateful for the strength I’ve found within myself. I’m grateful for the strength I’ve found in others.
I’m grateful for all the strength I’ve
found in the world.

I’m Learning to be strong. I’m Learning to overcome my fears.
I’m Learning to find the strength
I need.

Enrollment quickly filling classes

Out of the individual classes have yet to fill the seats. The local area colleges are finding that more students are taking advantage of the opportunity to enroll in summer courses. Although the weather is warm, many students are finding that it is still possible to complete their studies through the summer months.

One of the reasons for this is that students can take advantage of the lower tuition rates offered during the summer sessions. In addition, many employers are offering paid internships to students who complete their work during the summer months.
