HMO's, PPO's hospital option?

By A. J. Stallings

The Panola Watchman

The increasing trend toward health-care delivery systems such as HMO's and PPO's offers both challenges and opportunities for hospitals. HMO's and PPO's are creating a more competitive environment for hospitals to operate in. This has led to increased emphasis on quality, efficiency, and cost containment. Hospitals are being forced to increase their focus on patient satisfaction and outcomes. The challenge for hospitals is to find ways to remain competitive in this new landscape. Opportunities include the development of partnerships with HMO's and PPO's, as well as the creation of innovative care delivery models. Overall, the shift towards HMO's and PPO's has the potential to improve access to quality care and increase patient satisfaction, but also requires hospitals to adapt and evolve.

Pioneer churches prospered for a time

Know Your Heritage by Leila B. LaGrone

Last week we featured three pioneer churches. This week we continue with the story. Those early churches were simple but important. They were the cornerstones of the early communities.

One of the most important is the Old Church on Old Church Road. Built in 1848, this church was used by the early settlers. It was very simple but served its purpose.

Bible school planned

At the end of the day I always look forward to getting home and spending time with my family. It's a special time to relax and unwind after a long day. Sometimes I like to read a book or watch a movie, and other times I just enjoy spending time with my loved ones.

One of my favorite things to do is to cook dinner for my family. I love finding new recipes and trying out new things. My husband and kids are always happy to try new dishes, and I love seeing them enjoy the food.

Another thing I really enjoy is going for a walk or a bike ride with my family. It's a great way to get some exercise and enjoy the outdoors.

My kids love to play outside, so we try to spend as much time as possible outside. Whether it's playing in the sprinklers, going on a hike, or just sitting on the porch, they love it.
