Needy children to benefit from angel trees

One injured in parade

Christmas parade activities were canceled Tuesday when a 5-year-old girl fell and hit her head. Early Parade, 32, of Carthage, was transported to Paducah Gen- eral Hospital for an examination, and she was released to Frontier Texas Medical Center by her parents. Parents were admitted to Panola College Chapel students practice for Friday's performance of Messiah.

The Panola Watchman Pomplun given federal jail time for bank embezzlement

By Sherry Kocone T HE PANOLA WATCHMAN

Pomplun appeared in federal court Thursday in Beaumont after pleading guilty to embezzlement, face $200,000 in fines and $600,000 in restitution. The federal charges were announced on July 20.

In addition to the federal case, Pomplun will be required to pay over $50,000 to a non-profit organization that she embezzled from in Iowa. Ms. Pomplun was charged in Iowa in 1995 with embezzling funds on be- half of her personal use. She pled guilty to the Iowa fraud in March 1995.

Panola College to stage Handel's 'Messiah' Friday night

The best holiday musical traditions of the Eighteenth-century world will come to life at Panola College's annual performance of Handel's Messiah Friday night.

This year's performance, set for 7 p.m. Friday, features some of the best vocal artists in East Texas and western Louisiana. The performance will be held in the Panola College Fine Arts Center. The ensemble will accompany the Panola College Symphony Orchestra as well as a 60-member choir comprising members from local churches.

On sale tickets are available for the performance, which is sponsored by the Panola College Foundation and the Panola College Fine Arts Department. More information can be obtained by contacting the Panola College Fine Arts Department at 932-7220 or online at www.panola.edu.

Local students included in 1995-96 Who's Who

Dear Students, Staff, Faculty and Parents,

The Who's Who series is a compilation of students, staff and faculty who have demonstrated excellence in their academic and extracurricular activities. It is an opportunity for us to recognize and celebrate their achievements.

To be included in the Who's Who series, students must meet the following criteria:

- Academic Excellence: Students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or above.
- Leadership: Students must hold a leadership position in at least one extracurricular activity.
- Community Service: Students must have completed a minimum of 20 hours of community service.

This year, we have a record number of students who have met these criteria. We are proud of their accomplishments and believe they are an inspiration to others.

Congratulations to all the students who have been included in the Who's Who series for the 1995-96 academic year. Your hard work and dedication have paid off.

Sincerely,
[Signature]
