The Panola Watchman

Paulo County Commissioners met Monday and approved funding for the Paula County Hospital Board of Manager for three new nurse positions starting Dec. 31, 1998.

"We always needed more nurses," said County Executive Theresa Throckmorton. "We have been approved for three new nurses. They will begin in January."

"This is a very important decision for our community. We are planning for the future," she added.

"It is a good move," said Commissioner Ben Jones. "This will help us serve the community better."

The new nurses will be part of a new team that will include a registered nurse and a licensed practical nurse. The nurses will work on rotating shifts, with the licensed practical nurse being on duty during the day and the registered nurse working nights.

The nurses will be responsible for providing care to patients in the hospital. They will also be responsible for monitoring patient vital signs and reporting changes to the doctors. The nurses will also be responsible for providing education to patients and their families about treatments and medications.

The nurses will also be responsible for providing care in the emergency department. They will take vital signs and provide basic life support to patients in need of immediate medical attention.

The nurses will work under the supervision of a registered nurse, who will be responsible for ensuring that the patients receive safe and effective care. The registered nurse will also be responsible for providing support and guidance to the nurses.

The nurses will be required to have a Bachelor of Science in Nursing degree. They will also be required to have a license to practice as a registered nurse in the state of Georgia. The nurses will also be required to complete a state-approved nursing program and pass a state-administered exam to obtain a license to practice.

The nurses will be required to work a shift that includes weekends and holidays. They will be required to work for at least 20 hours per week.

The nurses will be responsible for maintaining accurate and up-to-date patient records. They will also be responsible for maintaining accurate and up-to-date documentation of care provided to patients.

The nurses will be responsible for maintaining a clean and safe environment for patients and staff. They will be responsible for ensuring that all equipment is properly maintained and that all necessary supplies are available.

The nurses will be required to follow all hospital policies and procedures. They will also be required to follow all state and federal regulations.

The nurses will be required to attend regular continuing education classes to maintain their nursing license. They will also be required to attend regular patient care meetings to ensure that all patients receive safe and effective care.

The nurses will be required to maintain current CPR certification. They will also be required to maintain current medication certification.

The nurses will be required to complete a background check and a drug test before being hired. They will also be required to complete a pre-employment physical examination.

The nurses will be required to maintain current immunizations. They will also be required to maintain current tuberculosis test.

The nurses will be required to be able to work under pressure and in a fast-paced environment. They will also be required to be able to communicate effectively with patients, families, and staff.

The nurses will be required to be able to work well in a team environment. They will also be required to be able to work with a variety of patients with different needs and situations.

The nurses will be required to be able to work under stress and in a fast-paced environment. They will also be required to be able to work well in a team environment. They will also be required to be able to work with a variety of patients with different needs and situations.
Blood supplies reach critical levels

The blood banks of Central Texas and the surrounding area have reached critical levels. The American Red Cross and the Blood Center of San Antonio are calling for immediate donations to ensure that hospitals and clinics have enough blood for their patients.

In the Central Texas area, the Blood Center of San Antonio reported a significant drop in blood donations, leading to a critical shortage of blood types O+, A+, B+ and B-. Hospitals are facing delays in surgeries and treatments due to the lack of available blood.

The Blood Center is appealing to the public to donate blood as soon as possible. They are urging residents to schedule appointments through their website or by calling the donation center.
