Bonner gets 12 years for Carughth Creek shooting

By Sharon Koons - THE PANOLA WATCHMAN

The unanimous verdict against Robert Bonner, who was convicted guilty this week of shooting and killing his wife in an argument about a week ago, was all that the state of the law could do, said one of the judge's sons, who was last seen riding a bike near the scene of the crime.

Defendant's defense attorney, Robert McMillan, was identified by the judge as the main witness, but he did not come forward during the trial. Instead, he was seen at the family home, talking to one of the officer's cars, which were parked nearby.

Following the shooting, Mrs. McMillan told the judge that she had been beaten to death and was Unable to speak. She was later found dead in a local hospital.

The jury's decision came after only four hours of deliberation, and the new sentences will be announced by the judge at a later date.

The man who was shot down by the South Carolina state troopers has been identified as the governor of the state's largest county.

The governor, who was named in a spinner report earlier this month, has been charged with violating the state's election laws.

The charges were filed by the state's election officials after they received a complaint from a local party official.

The governor was not available for comment, but his lawyer said he would not comment on the charges.

The state's election laws are strict, and violations can result in fines and jail time.

Former TAMU coach to speak at chamber banquet

TAMU's athletic program is set to host a banquet honoring the school's former football coach.

The banquet, which will be held at the Spearman Center, will feature speeches by former players and friends of the coach.

The coach, who was inducted into the College Football Hall of Fame in 2003, has been a fixture in the community and has been a strong supporter of the school's athletics program.

Bud earns government accounting award

The city of Houston has named a new controller for the city's comptroller's office.

The position, which has been vacant since the previous controller resigned earlier this year, was filled by a former state auditor.

The new controller, who will be responsible for overseeing the city's financial operations, was chosen after a nationwide search.

The appointment comes as the city is facing a number of financial challenges, including a budget shortfall and a growing debt load.

Citizen of the year entry deadline nears

Those who wish to submit nominations for the 1977 Panola County Citizen of the Year award have less than two weeks to submit their entries.

The awards will be presented at a ceremony on May 10 at the Panola County Courthouse. Nomination forms are available at the courthouse front desk.

How to Choose the Right Alarm Company

Choosing the right company is critical for protecting your home. Here are some things to consider:

1. Check the company's reputation. Look for companies with a good track record and positive reviews.

2. Verify the company's资质. Ensure the company is licensed and bonded.

3. Compare prices. Get quotes from multiple companies to ensure you're getting the best deal.

4. Ask about the monitoring service. Make sure the company offers 24/7 monitoring.

5. Check the type of equipment. Consider the quality and features of the equipment before making a decision.

6. Ensure the company provides support. Look for companies that offer customer support and ongoing service.

7. Consider the company's warranty. Choose a company that offers a warranty on their products.

8. Check the installation process. Make sure the installation process is straightforward and easy to understand.

9. Verify the company's experience. Ask about the company's experience and expertise in handling your specific needs.

10. Make sure the company is licensed to operate in your state. Check to ensure the company is licensed to operate in your area.

Remember, choosing the right alarm company is an important decision. Take your time and do your research to ensure you make the best choice for your needs.

And they lived happily ever after

Valentines Day will mark more than half a century of marriage for a Carbon couple who married 50 years ago which still is a school 5 years ago.

"Their story begins in the twenties," says Josephine LaGrone. "All the couples met then were married to each other. We were married before the war was over with and not long to be left out of the thing."

"It didn't take long for them all the love to wear off. We had been married for five years, we had two children and were married for 50 years."

After 50 years of marriage, the couple decided to get married again. They were married in the same church where they were married 50 years ago.

The couple has been married for 50 years and have no plans to stop anytime soon. They are still deeply in love and enjoy spending time together.

Keeping silver radiant

Silver is a durable material that can last for a long time with proper care. To keep your silver radiant, you should clean it regularly and store it properly.

1. Clean your silver often: Silver can tarnish over time, so it's important to clean it regularly. Use a soft brush or cloth to remove any dirt or debris from the silver.

2. Avoid contact with chemicals: Silver can react with certain chemicals, so it's important to avoid contact with them. This includes cleaning agents, perfumes, and lotions.

3. Store your silver properly: Store your silver in a cool, dry place. This will help prevent it from tarnishing.

4. Avoid contact with hot water: Hot water can damage silver, so it's important to avoid contact with it.

Make your reception memorable

A little extra creativity can turn your wedding reception into the party of the century. Approach the event with a little imagination and a willingness to think outside the box to make the occasion more memorable for you and your guests. The following ideas can make your wedding reception a night to remember:

Vibrant Decorations
- If you are planning an outdoor reception, consider renting a gazebo with matching tablecloths, flowers, and lanterns.
- For an indoor occasion, choose a theme that matches the season, such as autumn leaves or tropical paradise.

Romantic Reception Ideas
- Include baby’s breath, orchids, white roses, and white feathers in the centerpieces.
- Consider a rustic, farm-to-table dinner with locally sourced ingredients.

International Fare
- An international theme can add a fun and unique touch to your reception. Serve dishes from around the world, such as sushi, gyros, or tacos.
- Consider setting up a dessert bar with a variety of international sweets.

Memories to Last
- Capture memories with a photo booth or a memory table, where guests can leave messages or memories.
- Consider hiring a professional photographer or videographer to capture the special moments.

Plan a beautiful wedding without breaking the bank

Some couples believe weddings are a major cost. They're afraid to look at the bottom line unless they're actually seeing it. In fact, you don't have to break the bank to have a beautiful wedding. Here are some tips that could help save money without sacrificing any special details.

Reception:
- It's true that you can't see the wedding until you see the venue. So how do you find the perfect one for your budget? The key is to plan ahead. Start looking at venues early, and be sure to compare prices. You can also ask for recommendations from friends or family members who have recently been married.
- Check out all available options. Some venues offer discounts or special deals for early bookings. Others may offer special packages that include catering and decor.
- Be flexible. If you're not set on a specific location, you may be able to negotiate a lower price. For example, some venues may be willing to reduce their fees if you're willing to change your wedding date to a weekday.

Flowers:
- Select a seasonal flower. Seasonal flowers are usually cheaper than imported ones, and they'll add a touch of nature to your wedding.
- Keep your flowers simple. Baskets of flowers are often a good choice, as they can be arranged in a variety of ways and they're easy to transport and set up.
- Consider using flowers that are grown locally. This can help reduce the cost of shipping and transportation, and it's also a great way to support local farmers.

Planning makes for a great honeymoon

Due to the stresses of planning the ceremony and reception, and paying attention to countless details, both you and your spouse deserve a chance to relax, renew, and rest up before your wedding day. When deciding upon a honeymoon destination, pick a location that both of you will enjoy visiting. If you have a wide range of interests, choose a honeymoon that offers a variety of activities.

Once wedding planners arrange meeting with a travel agent to discuss possible locations that suit your budget and interests. Discuss a few alternative locations prior to booking your travel, so you do not have to rely on a destination. Once you have decided upon the perfect honeymoon spot, you can make all arrangements for the necessary arrangements and reservations.

According to most travel agents, Hawaii, the Caribbean, Europe, and Australia are popular destinations for honeymoons. A honeymoon is usually a once-in-a-lifetime experience, so it's important to choose a location that will be memorable and enjoyable. Whether you choose to go to Hawaii, Ireland, or anywhere in between, be sure to book your travel well in advance.

Use elegant expressions for at-home receptions

As home wedding receptions are more popular than ever, your house is the perfect place to enjoy your special day. You can decorate yourself and your guests, and you can enjoy the comfort of your own home. Be sure to include something in every room. A quilted wedding with a centered ribbon can enhance a beautiful wedding. Leave the punch bowls and champagne glasses away with robotic serving. Garnish punch cups with a perfect flower.

Flowers are in season with many flowers in your house for a very special experience. After all, this is your time to truly special.

Flowers provide decorative touches

Flowers can enhance the setting. They provide color, texture, and life to your wedding ceremony. They can bring up a church or reception hall to give a festive, special touch to the occasion.

Many couples want their flowers to last more than just a day, and also have meaningful symbolism behind the flowers.

Flowers can be used to convey a message of love, friendship, and happiness. Apple blossoms—good fortune. See FLOWERS page 11

AND MUCH, MUCH MORE!

Another popular idea is that people are incorporating their formal dinner into the ceremony. For example, a couple might have formal dinner at a restaurant, with the guests gathered around dining tables. The guests eat dinner and then the couple shares their vows at the table. This way, the couple can enjoy their meal and have a small, intimate ceremony at the same time.

A simple and elegant idea is to combine the wedding ceremony and the reception into one event. This can be done by having the ceremony in the same room as the reception, or by having the ceremony in a separate location and then moving the guests to the reception location. This can help to save time and money, and can also create a more intimate atmosphere for the guests.

A popular idea is to have the wedding ceremony in a different location than the reception. This can be done by having the ceremony in a park or a beach, and then moving the guests to a nearby restaurant or hotel for the reception. This can help to create a more relaxed and informal atmosphere for the guests.

No matter what type of wedding you choose, the most important thing is to make sure that the couple and the guests are happy and comfortable. This will help to ensure that the wedding is a success and that everyone has a memorable experience.
