Flooding problems to increase

Area flooding is expected to continue this week in low-lying areas where dozens of homes have already been evacuated. As of last night, there were more than 100 homes evacuated.

A problem of the Sabine River, causing flooding in this region, is expected to persist for at least several more days. The river was at 30 feet by last night, and is not expected to fall below this level for at least three more days.

The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) has issued a flood warning for the area around the Sabine River.

As of Friday, the river was at 30 feet, the same level as last week.

The river's level is expected to rise to 32 feet by Sunday.

The river's level is expected to remain at 30 feet by Monday.

City considers abatement for WNA plant expansion

By Sherry Koonce

The Panola Watchman

Panola County is considering a plan to expand the WNA plant in the city of Panola.

The City of Panola has recently received a proposal from WNA to increase its production capacity by 20 percent.

The proposal has been met with mixed reactions from the residents of Panola.

Many residents are concerned about the potential environmental impact of the expansion, while others are excited about the potential economic benefits.

The city council is scheduled to discuss the proposal at its next meeting.

CHS group takes top honors in state

A successful music tour recently culminated in the CHS group receiving top honors in the Texas Music Educators Association (TMEA) competition.

The group, under the direction of Michael Rezabek, took first place in the statewide competition.

The group performed a variety of popular and classical music pieces, receiving high praise from the judges.

The group's success is attributed to the hard work and dedication of the students and their director.

No cars have blocked the Sabine River boat ramp yet, so the ramp has been under construction for days. The river is expected to continue rising as rain comes later this week.

Collaborating for the future of health care

While mergers and buyouts have become common in the changing health care industry, a group of Texas health care providers has found an innovative solution—working together to form a partnership.

On Friday, February 7, the Board of Directors of Marshall Regional Medical Center announced its affiliation with Trinity Mother Frances Health System and Good Shepherd Medical Center. These organizations were selected because they share similar values and philosophies.

The partnership will allow the citizens of Marshall and the surrounding area to continue to receive quality health care services, while also providing opportunities for growth and development.

Health career day set at Carthage High School

In the spring, Carthage High School will hold a Health Career Day for students interested in pursuing a career in the health care field. The event is designed to provide information about various health care careers and the requirements for entry.
