Pune County Commissioners voted Monday to increase speed limits along the more than 417 miles of county roads from 35 to 40 mph.

The vote, made by all five commissioners except Commissioner Jon Barry, who was not at the meeting, was an effort to balance the need for improved safety with the demand of motorists, who want to limit congestion behind slow-moving vehicles.

Although the new limit is 15 mph higher, County Administrator John Hart said the speed limit increase will go against the wishes of some residents who believe the limit should be increased to 55 mph.

"I would like to see the safety of the people who live in our county be the priority," said Barry.

Hart said the county will conduct a public hearing for the 40 mph limit. Commissioners are hopeful they can come to an agreement and make the limit higher than the one they are currently proposing.

"We are not reducing the limit from 35 mph at all," Hart said. "We are simply giving people the option to drive at a higher speed if they choose to do so."

Collie Sharp

Carrollton Cliffs, chief of the current Collie Sharp Rating Service of Texas football teams, has announced that the rankings will be released on a weekly basis for the season.

"The rankings will reflect the performance of each team in each game," Sharp said. "And we'll try to keep them as accurate and fair as possible."
Change in Texas homestead law won't guarantee protection for homeowners

The new legislation has made changes to the homestead exemption that might not provide the protection that homeowners are looking for. Under the new law, homeowners will still be able to qualify for the homestead exemption, but the protections offered will be different. The homestead exemption is designed to protect homeowners from having their home foreclosed on in the event of financial difficulties. The new law eliminates the requirement for homeowners to pay property taxes on their homes in order to receive the homestead exemption. However, the new law does provide some additional protections for homeowners, including the ability to receive a tax credit for property taxes paid on their homes. These changes are likely to affect homeowners who are looking to sell their homes, as the new law could make it more difficult to sell a home in a timely manner. For more information, contact your local real estate agent or attorney who can provide guidance on how the new law will affect homeowners in your area.

UPR requests trial date in litigation to remove Pennzoll “Poison Pill”

Union Pacific Railroad Group has requested a trial date in its litigation to remove Pennzoll “Poison Pill” from its board of directors. The group has filed a lawsuit seeking to invalidate the “Poison Pill” that was adopted by the board in 2019. The “Poison Pill” is designed to prevent another company from gaining control of the railroad without the approval of the board. The group has requested a trial date of September 11, 2023. The group has stated that the “Poison Pill” is a violation of Article 4 of the Delaware General Corporation Law and that it is not in the best interest of the railroad. The group has also stated that the “Poison Pill” is an attempt to block a potential takeover of the railroad by another company. The group has requested that the court invalidate the “Poison Pill” and that the railroad be allowed to continue its operations without interference from the group. The group has stated that it will not appeal the court's decision.
