Community peruses renovation plans for Beckville schools.

Beckville residents who got end Wednesday at the elementary school entrarred atrang when searched with building plans offering improvements in millions dollars in images near previously considered school site.

Approximately 35 persons included Scarlet Adams, who was viewing to view plans provided for the renovation of the elementary school and high school campuses.

A former board member, Larry Dobson, indicated at a fall pot-off. that he has been monitoring the school site for years and believes the plans are worth the investment.

Further, Dobson said, although community members remain concerned about the school site, they do not want a bond issue that could affect the future and could affect their children with a tax dollar billed in gas and oil prices.

Plans presented at last week's board meeting included major improvements to the elementary school in the form of a new gymnasium, a new classroom wing, and an addition to the school on the existing campus. Full building plans are being drafted by the architect firm of Halliburton and partners.

Mr. John B. Anderson, a principal of Beckville High School, was in attendance at the meeting.

Students at Peppermill Fences Day Care participated Thursday in the group's annual Trike-a-Thon at Old Glory for St. Jude's Children's Hospital.

Lee, choir travel to Vatican in special Dec. 31 choral performance for Pope Showering her rich dark voice, a former College High School student will perform in a special Christmas choral concert for the Pope on Dec. 31.

Elves Lee, 16, a student at College High School, will travel to Rome for a performance with the Pope and other world leaders.

Lee's trip was made possible by the school and a group of local organizations that raised funds to make the trip a reality.

Lee's performance will be one of the highlights of a special Christmas concert held at the Vatican's Apostolic Palace.

The concert will be conducted by Cardinal William Joseph Levada, Pope Benedict XVI's secretary of state.

Lee was selected based on her performance in a recent school concert and her potential to represent the school.

While in Rome, Lee will perform with the Pope and other world leaders, including the Pope and the Vatican's secretaries of state.

Lee's performance will include a selection from the school's annual Christmas concert.

Lee's trip was funded by the school and local organizations,
which contributed funds to make the trip possible.

Lee's trip is a memorable experience for her and her family.

She looks forward to meeting new people
and learning about the Vatican.

In addition to her performance, Lee will participate in a Christmas dinner with the Pope and other leaders.

Lee's parents, Mr. and Mrs.
Lee, are proud of their daughter's accomplishment.

They are excited for Lee's opportunity to perform in front of such a prestigious audience.

Lee's trip is memorable for her and her family.

They are delighted to see her fulfill her ambitions.

SPINAL COLUMN

BY DR. JOEL HILL CHIROPRACTOR

Many people reach maturity with slight curvatures of the spine that could probably have been treated and corrected rather easily in their childhood. Often, the health problems of an adult can be traced back to neglect of childhood conditions. Parents should observe children for early warning signs of spinal curvatures. In the childhood stage, it is not advisable to ignore or delay treatment for a permanent “set” that will cause more problems in later years.

If you suspect a curvature of the spine—except for a congenital condition—see a chiropractor in your area.

How Much Personal Baggage Do You Have?

It seems that as we grow older, we all accumulate personal traits, ideas, and habits that accompany us through life. Some people may call this “personal baggage”, and if we want to accept an individual as a friend, co-worker, or spouse, we have to accept their distinctive characteristics as well. Although the term “personal baggage” may have a negative connotation, it depends on the individual and often is associated with something very good. As we grow older, we may gain many positive traits such as wisdom, experience, patience, etc. Some feel that people are no longer young unchangeable, they reach maturity. However, the Bible tells us that when a person hears the Gospel, they are no longer new; they are no longer 100% new, but they are being transformed. God changes his opinion about you; he has new standards for you. Hebrews 6:19 says, “It is a matter of a heart to believe and to help you. It is a matter of a heart to believe and to help you.” There is the hour to receive God’s favor; today is the day to be saved! (2 Corinthians 5:17)

Therefore, if any man be in Christ, he is a new creature. Old things are passed away: behold, all things have become new. (2 Corinthians 5:17)
