Hendersons implicated in cover-up

By Sherry Koontz

The Panola Watchman

The Hendersons were implicated in a cover-up involving a number of missing Leon County residents who have not been heard from since 1985.

According to the Hendersons, who claim to have had personal knowledge of the disappearances, they believe that the residents were taken to a remote location in the county and subjected to a series of interrogations and physical abuse.

The Hendersons have been repeatedly confronted with evidence of their involvement in the cover-up, but they have maintained their innocence throughout.

The investigation continues.

EVERYONE MAKES MISTAKES

Every day, we are faced with making business, personal, and moral decisions. We can get into a rut and at some point, if you can see where the mistake was, it is really hard to make the decision that you made is wrong. In this way, we try to respond to what is most important. Just as we learn by our errors, our tolerance for others is necessary in order for us to live a peaceful life. Forging others is usually more beneficial to us than to those who have done us wrong. In the words of St. Francis of Assisi, "Forgive, but do not forget. We forgive to keep ourselves free."

And...although forgetting is not forgetting, we have to keep in mind that only God is perfect, and that we all make mistakes. Forgiving means that we understand, that we will not let them weigh on our future relationship with them.

And when you stand and pray, forgive anything you may have against anyone, so that your Father in heaven will forgive the wrongs you have done.
