PANOLA COUNTY SADDLES up for the 1998 Junior Livestock show on March 19 and 20.

A worthy project, the annual event will be held at the Panola County Exposition Center and will feature livestock raised by the county's youth. For the last six years, the Junior Livestock show at the Panola County Exposition Center has been the shining light of junior livestock events in Panola County. This year, the show will feature a variety of events, including the popular Junior Livestock Sale, which offers prizes for the top-selling animals.

The competition begins Monday, March 19 at 8 a.m. and again on Friday, March 23 at 8 a.m. Junior Livestock Exhibitors must be current 4-H and FFA members and will be required to submit documentation of their participation in 4-H and FFA activities.

Counties' budgets tight, especially for road work

By Sherry Koonce
THE PANOLA WATCHMAN

Counties across the state are facing tight budgets for road work and other projects. This is especially true in Panola County, where the county budget is set to decrease by 10 percent this year.

AUGUST - Beckville faces potential Bobcats Friday in state AA semifinals in Austin at The Show

Shhh! Krum's tradition best kept secret

Krum has a tradition of keeping secrets and it's not a secret anymore. According to local legend, the Bobcats have a secret weapon that they use to win games. It's called "The Secret," and it's a special recipe that only the coaches and players know. This year, the coaches decided to let the players in on the secret, and the Bobcats have been winning ever since. The legend says that "The Secret" is the key to their success, and it's the reason why the Bobcats have won two state championships in the past 10 years. For more information, call 555-1234.

Get your green Tuesday

By Paul McConnell

Those who forgot to wear green on Tuesday last week might be wondering why on earth we celebrated St. Patrick's Day. The reason is simple: the color green is a symbol of luck, prosperity, and good fortune. According to legend, the Irish saint himself wore green attire to symbolize his faith and to distinguish himself from the pagans. Today, St. Patrick's Day is celebrated around the world with parades, parties, and special events. For more information, call 555-1234.
