The Carthage Lions football team defeated the Longview Lobos 21-14 in their district opener last Friday night at the home field. The Lions’ defense was relentless, allowing only 14 points to the Lobos, while scoring 21 of their own. The game was a hard-fought battle, with both teams display strong offensive and defensive performances. The Lions’ victory was a testament to their hard work and dedication throughout the season. The next game for the Lions is against the Terrell Tigers, who are expected to present a tough challenge. Fans are encouraged to support their team and come out to cheer them on. The Lions’ next home game is scheduled for next Friday, and tickets are available at the stadium gates or online. Let’s show our support and make it a great night for football fans everywhere.

Morris is speaker at Epsilon Tau meeting

The Epsilon Tau chapter of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority held its regular meeting Monday with Mrs. L. W. Smith, President of the chapter, presiding.

The program was given by Mr. Morris, who spoke on "The American Revolution," the subject of his thesis at Columbia University.

The meeting was held in the chapter's chapter room, which is located in the Carthage High School.

In other matters, the chapter discussed plans for the upcoming sorority ball, which will be held on Friday, February 21.
