Vets aren't using money for school
Editorials ★ Columns ★ Opinions

Wrong move

You and your Money

1. I learned the profit motive can be too strong. In a recent article, I highlighted the importance of considering ethical implications when making business decisions. This is especially crucial in industries where the potential for harm is high. The example I presented was the recent controversy surrounding a new medication that was released with untested side effects. The company's decision to prioritize profit over safety was not only unethical but also resulted in significant harm to patients. It's important to always consider the long-term implications of our actions.

2. I've been following the developments in renewable energy for some time now, and I'm encouraged by the progress being made. However, there's a lot more work to be done to make these technologies truly sustainable. One area where we need to focus is in improving the efficiency of solar panels. By investing in research and development, we can make significant gains in this area. This is not only good for the environment but also for the economy in the long run.

Free facelifts

HEW

Washington, D.C. - It was announced today by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) that it has finalized plans for a nationwide program offering free facelifts to all Americans. The program, which is expected to cost $5 billion, will be funded through a tax on sugary drinks. HEW spokesperson Mr. Smith said, "We believe this program will not only improve the physical appearance of our citizens but also boost the economy by creating jobs and increasing consumer spending." The program will begin in January and will be available to all Americans regardless of income or insurance status.

Canada, Mexico vital to U.S.

Mr. Anthony K. Jackson

Mexico and Canada are the two most important trading partners of the United States. They have a long history of friendly relations and cooperation in various fields, including trade, agriculture, and energy. Mexico has become a significant market for U.S. products, and the U.S. is the largest export market for Mexico. Similarly, Canada is our second-largest trading partner, and we have a strong economic relationship with Canada. It's important that we continue to work together to address mutual challenges and opportunities.

Youth of Today

Youth is often depicted as rebellious and ungrateful, but I believe that this is a misconception. Youth is a time of discovery and growth, and it's important that we provide them with opportunities to learn and contribute to society. By investing in education and providing mentorship programs, we can help young people develop the skills and values they need to succeed in life. It's also important to recognize the positive contributions youth make in their communities, whether through volunteer work or entrepreneurship.

Sports

Cats win loop opener

The Dallas Mavericks won their first game of the season on Tuesday night, defeating the Houston Rockets by a score of 112-105. The Mavericks' star player, Luka Doncic, led the team in scoring with 32 points, while the Mavericks' defense held the Rockets to only 105 points. The Mavericks are looking to build on this win as they continue their season.

Fillies sign point guard

The Indiana Pacers signed former Notre Dame point guard Demetrius Jackson to a two-year contract on Thursday. Jackson, who averaged 15.8 points and 3.9 assists per game last season, is expected to provide depth to the Pacers' roster. The Pacers are looking to improve their offense and defense, and Jackson's addition is a step in the right direction.

PJC sets banquet date
