Local men get different ideas

From industrial training session in Austin

Giant-Utica Utilities Generating Company's newest research chemical plant, which is under construction at the present site in Utica, is being built for the purpose of generating power for the company's customers. The plant, which will be the largest of its kind in the world, started operating in January, and is expected to be completed by the end of the year. The plant is located on a site near Utica's present plant, and is being built on land that has been set aside specifically for the purpose of generating power.

TUGCO under fire on pollution charges

Giant-Utica Utilities Generating Company, which has been facing charges of pollution, has been ordered to pay a fine of $10,000 by the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA). The company has been charged with violating federal pollution laws by releasing too much pollution into the nearby river. The company has been given 30 days to pay the fine, or face further legal action.

School bus drivers get paid hike

A new pay scale for school bus drivers has been approved by the school board. The new scale will pay drivers $100 more per week than the old scale. The new pay scale will be retroactive to the start of the current school year.

Panola General 'in the black'

Panola General Hospital in Panola, Texas, has reported a surplus of $200,000 for the first six months of the year. The hospital has been able to reduce costs and increase revenue, which has resulted in the surplus. The hospital has been able to achieve this by implementing new cost-saving measures, such as reducing the number of unnecessary procedures and increasing the number of patients who pay for their services.

Anthony dollar not popular here

In a town where the Anthony dollar is not widely accepted, a new idea has been proposed. The town has been considering the implementation of a local currency, the Panola dollar, which would be used in the town and surrounding area. The proposal has been met with mixed reactions, with some residents in favor of the idea and others against it.

PG adding ER service

An expansion of emergency room services, which was announced by the hospital, will take place on November 1st. The new services will include an emergency room for adults, as well as a pediatric emergency room. The hospital has been working to improve its emergency room services, and the new expansion is expected to improve the quality of care provided to patients.

Food stamps not the way

In a country with the affluence of the United State, it shouldn't be necessary to ask for handouts. Our government has seen the need to help those who are in need but our system of food stamps is not the way to go. The problem isn't that we don't have enough food, but that we have too much food waste. This is a major problem that needs to be addressed and solutions need to be put in place.

Sneaky plug for red sneakers

The small shoes are getting bigger. The children who once wore them are now teenagers and they are starting to wear red sneakers. The red sneakers are now the new trend and the children are following the trend. The shoes are comfortable and they are trendy. The children are happy and the parents are satisfied.

Know Your Heritage

You and the law

In the case of the young man who was arrested for shoplifting, the judge sentenced him to community service. The young man is grateful for the opportunity to give back to his community. He is aware of the consequences of his actions and he is determined to be a better person.

Afternoon at the horse show

By W.R. Utter

The horse show in the public square of Carthage offers one of the finest displays of horse talent in the area. Boys and girls from all over the area show their horses, and some of the horses are quite a sight to see. The horse show is held every Saturday afternoon in the public square, and it is a great time to see the horses. The horse show is open to all, and it is a great way to see the horses.
