Central America: a priority

One of the few foreign policy priorities of the new Reagan administration is the need to contain the dramatic spread of communism in Central America. This is a vital strategic and economic interest for the United States. The success of the United States in containing communism in the Western Hemisphere during the last century is a key reason why this country remains the most prosperous and powerful nation on earth.

President Reagan must continue the efforts of his predecessors to support the resistance movements in Nicaragua, El Salvador and Guatemala. These countries face serious threats to their democracies and to the stability of the region.

Lady Bulldogs win bi-district match

One last hurdle to Austin

The Lady Bulldogs, who have been seeded second in their region's playoff bracket, will face the top-seeded El Paso Cathedral High School in the bi-district game on Friday. The Bulldogs have beaten three teams from the El Paso tournament of Champions so far this year, including the Cathedral. The Lady Bulldogs have also beaten two teams from the regional tournament, including the top-seeded El Paso Cathedral High School. The Lady Bulldogs are looking forward to the challenge of facing the top-seeded team in their region, and are hoping to advance to the regional districts. The Lady Bulldogs have been working hard to prepare for the game, and are confident that they can take on the challenge of facing the top-seeded team.

Hopeful Fillies ousted from playoffs

The Fillies were hoping to make it to the regional tournament, but were ousted from the playoffs in the first district game. The Fillies had a strong outing in the first district game, but were unable to overcome the strong team from the opposing region. The Fillies will be looking forward to the next challenge, and are already preparing for the regional tournament. The Fillies have been working hard to prepare for the tournament, and are confident that they can take on the challenge of facing the other teams in their region.
