Sun Gas Company is increasing its production

The Sun Gas Company is increasing its production of natural gas. This move comes after a series of successful exploration efforts in East Texas. The company has been working to expand its operations to meet growing demand for natural gas. With this increase, Sun Gas aims to enhance its position as a major supplier in the region. The expansion is expected to create new jobs and contribute to the local economy.

PANOLA COUNTY OIL & GAS REPORT

Panola County has been noted for its oil and gas resources. The county is home to several oil and gas exploration companies, and there is ongoing activity in the area. The county's geological formations are known to contain significant reserves of oil and natural gas. This has attracted companies looking to expand their operations in the region. The report highlights the importance of the oil and gas industry to the local economy and discusses the latest developments in the sector.
