Something must be done

Naturally, it appears, there is the proposed I-95 extension to blame. The few who look at the problem objectively have never advocated such an extension. The highway is necessary, but it is not the real cause of the problem. A number of factors, both large and small, have contributed to the trouble. The addition of a large, new hospital, the increased population density, and the growth of the city have all played a part. The real problem is the congestion and the need for more parking. These are problems that cannot be solved by building more roads. The proposed I-95 extension would only add to the problem, making it worse. Something must be done to address the root causes of the problem, not just the symptoms.

Labor costs a major problem

By ANTHONY RABINOV

A recent report by the National Bureau of Economic Research indicates that labor costs are a major problem for businesses in the area. The report, which examined data from the past decade, found that labor costs have risen significantly, putting a strain on many businesses. The report also found that the rise in labor costs has been accompanied by a decrease in productivity, suggesting that businesses are not able to offset the increased costs with increased efficiency. The report's findings are concerning and highlight the need for businesses to find ways to reduce labor costs and improve productivity.

Enrollment is 3,333 at SFA

The Spring-Ford Area School District has announced that enrollment for the current school year is 3,333 students. This is a decrease of 5% compared to the previous year. The district attributes the decrease to a number of factors, including a decrease in births and a decrease in immigration. The district has also faced budget cuts, which have led to a decrease in staff and programs. Despite the challenges, the district is working to ensure that all students have access to the resources they need to succeed.

The City Commission will meet at Davie Park Friday, July 24, at 6:30 p.m.

To make a final decision on the rezoning issue.

The City Commission will consider the recommendation of the Planning and Zoning Commission to rezone six of the ten zoning districts in Carthage to allow the drilling and storage of oil and gas. Four of the zoning districts (those zoned residential only) would be exempt from drilling operations. To drill in these, oil companies would have to request a rezoning variance.

---Dee's Doodles---

First day of school is Tuesday, Sep. 4. This year, the school district is introducing a new dress code, which requires students to wear a collared shirt and pants. The district hopes that the new dress code will help create a more professional and respectful learning environment. Students and parents have mixed reactions to the new policy, with some supporting it and others expressing concerns about its impact on students' confidence and self-expression.

Timber sellers should know marketing

To sell wood, it is important to know the market. A timber sales representative must be familiar with the local market and understand the needs of the buyers. They must also know how to price the timber, considering factors such as the demand, supply, and cost of production. The representative must also be able to communicate effectively with the buyers, presenting the timber in the best possible light. By knowing the market and understanding the needs of the buyers, a timber sales representative can help ensure that the timber is sold at a fair price and in a timely manner.

Myers, Carroll wed in home ceremony

Bridal frogs made a cute centerpiece for the table at the home of David and Edith Myers in Carthage. The couple was married at 4:30 p.m. at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, parents of the bride, who live at 202 South Pearl. The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, parents of the groom, who resides at 111 South Madison, was the church and reception site. The Rev. Mr. Jack Davis officiated. The maid of honor was Little Faye Garrett, and bridesmaids were Miss Faith Davis, Miss Bettye Davis, and Miss Carol Garrett. The groomsmen included Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Davis. The ringbearsers were Little Billy Garrett and Scott Davis. The best men were John Davis and Mike Davis.
