Showing flag entails danger

The response to the U.S. flag could not have been more heartfelt. The Secretary of Agriculture, in his message on the occasion of National Flag Week, said that the flag "stands for the right of every American to express his sentiments in all places where he is free to do so." The President has also pointed out that we are "not free to express our sentiments in all places and not free to do so without restriction." This is a vital point that cannot be overemphasized.

An absence of conferences

The President's statement that the U.S. flag "stands for the right of every American to express his sentiments in all places where he is free to do so" is true in one sense. It is true because we are free to express our sentiments in most places. But it is not true because we are free to express our sentiments in all places. This is because the flag is a symbol of our nation's sovereignty, and it is not possible to express our sentiments in all places without restriction.

Expectations may be unreal

In the February issue of the Journal of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a paper was published entitled "The Role of the Scientist in Society." The paper is a call for scientists to take a greater role in the development of public policy. The paper states that the scientist should be a full partner in the development of public policy, and that the scientist should be involved in the development of public policy at all levels of government.

Bulldogs impressive in Eylau win

By RICHARD SELKOW

The Paulsboro High School football team has been remarkably effective in 1983, but the team's most impressive achievement was their 6-0 win over Overton in a Friday night game at Central High School.

The game was marked by a lack of fireworks and a lot of hard work, but the Bulldogs were the better team in the end.

Paulsboro coach Bill McGovern said he was pleased with his team's performance.

"The guys were ready to go," he said.

The Bulldogs' defense was strong throughout the game, limiting Overton to just 34 yards on the ground and 67 yards passing.

Paulsboro rushed for 198 yards on 34 carries, with tailback Mike West leading the way with 79 yards on 12 carries.

In the third quarter, Paulsboro's quarterback, Tom Smith, completed a 29-yard pass to John Smith for a touchdown.

Later in the quarter, West scored on a 5-yard run to give Paulsboro a 14-0 lead.

The Bulldogs added a field goal in the fourth quarter to complete the game with a decisive 38-0 score.

Overton's coach, Joe Johnson, said his team was outplayed.

"They were better than us," he said.

The Bulldogs will now turn their attention to the second round of the playoffs, where they will face the top-seeded team in the state.

Beckville bomb overcomes Overton 6-0

By RICHARD SELKOW

The Beckville High School football team is off to a 2-2 start this season, but the team's performance against Overton in a Friday night game at Central High School was impressive.

The game was marked by a lack of fireworks and a lot of hard work, but the Bulldogs were the better team in the end.

Beckville coach Bill McGovern said he was pleased with his team's performance.

"The guys were ready to go," he said.

The Bulldogs' defense was strong throughout the game, limiting Overton to just 34 yards on the ground and 67 yards passing.

Beckville rushed for 198 yards on 34 carries, with tailback Mike West leading the way with 79 yards on 12 carries.

In the third quarter, Beckville's quarterback, Tom Smith, completed a 29-yard pass to John Smith for a touchdown.

Later in the quarter, West scored on a 5-yard run to give Beckville a 14-0 lead.

Steinbrenner plays the part of a fool again

By RICHARD SELKOW

In case you haven't heard about it yet, the news out of Yonkers and the Yankees is that George Steinbrenner, the team's owner, has been arrested for wire fraud.

The news came as a shock to many Yankees fans, who had come to expect nothing but success from their beloved team.

But Steinbrenner's latest antics have only served to remind us of his reputation for playing the part of a fool.

It's just another example of how Steinbrenner is more interested in making headlines than in winning baseball games.

And it's just another example of how Steinbrenner is willing to do whatever it takes to make the Yankees the talk of the town, even if it means伤害ing the team and its fans.

But in the end, it's hard to imagine Steinbrenner ever really being as successful as he wants to be, because no amount of hype or publicity can make up for the fact that he's more interested in show business than in winning baseball games.
