By MARSHALL DOUGLAS
Watchman Editor

Voters in Cartagena will be asked to vote on a $25 million bond issue on Tuesday, following action of the Cartagena City Commission Monday night.

The Commission voted to accept the recommendation of a citizens plan-ning committee that a bond issue be held on the first Tuesday in November, subject to certain conditions, made by the commis-sioners at the Monday night meeting.

The bond issue is to be used for: (1) the construction of a new water plant necessary to increase the city’s share of funds needed to improve the existing system, and (2) the construction and operation of the new water treatment plant. Currently the city has license to operate a water treatment plant, but the city has yet to acquire the necessary permits and licenses to operate the plant.

The bond issue is to be issued for: (1) the construction of a new water treatment plant, and (2) the construction of a new water storage facility. The bonds would be sold to the public at their face value.

Heritage Hall gets donation

The IoC Carriage House at Heritage Hall in downtown Carthage is next in line for a needed facelift. The last time the heritage house was given a fresh look was in 1984. It was then that the building was purchased by the IoC and is now owned by the Heritage Foundation. The building had been used as the business office of the IoC for many years. The highlight of the IoC Carriage House is a large, glass-paneled room that is used for meetings and events. The building also has a kitchen and a meeting room. The IoC Carriage House is located at 502 S. Dallas in downtown Carthage. It is open to the public Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The IoC Carriage House is a popular spot for tourists and locals alike. It is a great place to stop and see the history of Carthage and the surrounding area.
