Mishap injures youth

First' slalomed by church

It's a stormy night and the winds howling outside. But inside the church, things are calm. The youth group is gathered together, preparing for their big night. They are excited to be the first to experience the thrill of slalom skiing.

The group has been practicing hard for weeks, and they are confident in their abilities. They are ready to show off their skills and impress their friends and family.

As they begin their descent down the course, the air is filled with excitement. The wind howls as they make their way through the turns. They weave in and out, avoiding the obstacles and keeping their balance.

Finally, they reach the finish line and are greeted by cheers and applause. The group is proud of themselves and each other, having achieved something that they never thought possible.

It was a memorable night for the youth group, and they are already planning their next slalom adventure. They can't wait to show off their skills and continue their journey of discovery and growth.

PJC Jaycee Classic begins Friday

Free throws are costly to Ponies

At least 12 basketball games are on tap for the Ponies this week in Carthage. The Lady Ponies and the Ponies have the opportunity to make their mark in the conference this week as they face some key opponents. The Lady Ponies have struggled in recent games, losing to rival Carthage and falling to调料 (a local school). Ponies play host

THE GAME CLOCK had barely begun ticking Saturday night before the Ponies were on the board in their game with Angleton. With Keith Anderson (11) proving fit for the opening tip, the Ponies got off to a fast start in their meeting with the Lady Bulldogs. The Lady Bulldogs countered with a strong second quarter and the game was tied at the half. The Lady Bulldogs regained the lead and the game went into overtime. The Lady Ponies were able to gain some momentum in the second overtime but the Lady Bulldogs came back to win the game. The Lady Ponies play again this week against a tough Carthage team. If anyone ever said that basketball was a sport with no suspense, they would be surprised. In the photo below, Ponies' Traci York is guarded by Angleton's Traci Douglas. The game was close throughout and the Ponies held their own in the overtime. The Lady Bulldogs finally broke through in the second overtime to win the game. The Fillies play again this week against a tough Carthage team. Carthage

Georgia trip

By ROY C. JONES

The members of the Carthage Rotary Club recently traveled to Georgia on a tour of the state. They visited some of the major cities, including Atlanta, Savannah, and Augusta. The members had a chance to sample some of the local food and learn about the history and culture of the state. The tour was sponsored by the Carthage Rotary Club and was enjoyed by all the members.
