11 Beckville students inducted into NHS

by Cindy House

Eleven Beckville High School seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society ceremony May 12 at Beckville High School. A total of 14 seniors were inducted into the National Honor Society, with eight being students in the Beckville High School district and six being students in the Fannin County district.

The ceremony, which included a presentation of the four pillars of the National Honor Society—character, leadership, scholarship, and service—was held in the school’s auditorium. The inductees were recognized for their academic and extracurricular achievements.

"Just for FUn"
Clinton outlasts Wildcats 10-7

As the final buzzer echoed through Old Town, the Clinton basketball team had qualified for another trip to the state playoffs. The scene, which was replayed countless times in the minds of the fans, was a classic underdog triumph. The Clinton team had come from behind again, this time against a formidable opponent, the Wildcats. The win was sweet, but the journey to get there was a testament to the team’s determination and resilience.

In Annual Awards Banquet

PJC athletes reap harvest with awards

The annual awards banquet held at the PJC campus was a testament to the hard work and dedication of the athletes. Awards were presented to the best performers in various sports, highlighting their achievements and the sacrifices they made. The attendees, including coaches, parents, and friends, gathered to celebrate the victories and the lessons learned. It was a night of recognition and appreciation for the athletes who had given their all.

PJC Ponies sign high school star

According to information from the PJC athletic department, the PJC Ponies have signed a high school star for the upcoming season. The signing ceremony was held in a private room at the PJC campus, attended by the athlete, the coaches, and representatives from the high school. The athlete, who had been a rising star in the local sports community, was elated at the prospect of playing at the next level. The coach expressed his excitement about the addition, stating that the athlete’s skills and work ethic would be invaluable to the team.

Weekly softball report

Here, most valuable player Donald Johnson, was the standout performer in the weekly softball report. His exceptional performance earned him the Most Valuable Player award. The other notable performances included a strong outing by pitcher Tim White, who managed to keep the opposing team at bay with his sharp pitching. The team’s offensive prowess was also highlighted, with several players contributing to the team’s victory.

Sports Shorts

The PJC Ponies' victory over the Wildcats was just one of the many stories in the local sports landscape. The weekly sports section featured updates on local teams, including the Chapel Hill Bulldogs' edge over Carthage 4-3, and the Fillies' make final recruiting choice. The Fillies' decision to join the league lead in softball was an important development, as it showcased their commitment to excellence in sports.

Fillies make final recruiting choice

The Fillies, long known for their academic and athletic excellence, have made their final recruiting choice. This decision was made after a rigorous evaluation process, considering the players' skills, potential, and alignment with the team’s goals. The Fillies' coaches expressed confidence in the new recruits, highlighting their potential to contribute to the team's success.
