CISD accepts bids for school expansion

The Carlsbad Independent School District board of trustees Tuesday evening, May 22, asked to receive bids from qualified contractors interested in building a new elementary school in the Carlsbad area. The school will be built on land purchased by the district earlier this year.

The board also approved the seating plan for the new school, which will have approximately 800 seats. The school is expected to open in the fall of 2024.

Cannon, Hooper suits are settled

Judge awards $23,000 in Beckville ISD case

A federal judge has awarded $23,000 in damages to a former employee of the Beckville Independent School District.

The employee, a former teacher, sued the district claiming that she was denied proper compensation for her work.

Judge lumped the practice of the district into a suit and ruled that the district had violated state law by not compensating the teacher properly.

The judgment awarded the employee $23,000 in damages, plus court costs.

Beckville Council postpones action on grant

The Beckville City Council has postponed its decision on a grant proposal to the Beckville Junior High School. The grant would provide funds for the purchase of new computers for the school.

The council had planned to vote on the grant at its regular meeting on Tuesday, May 14. However, after receiving feedback from several members of the community, the council decided to delay the vote. The council will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, May 14, to discuss the grant proposal.

WHEN Shelly and I walked into the Shelby Savings Bank to ask about an In-\n\n\n\n\nvestment Account, The teller, who looked much older than me, was very kind to us. She told us that we opened the account and got a $100 bonus. She also mentioned that we could speak with a financial advisor who could help us further. The bank also offers a mobile banking app and various online services for convenience.

Bikers raise more than $5,000 for St. Jude’s

A CHECK FOR $800 was accepted by Connie Allman and her son, Tommy, on behalf of St. Jude’s Children’s Hospital in Dallas, Texas. The money was raised in the recent Bike-a-Thon in Graham, which included about 100 participants. The event was held to raise awareness and funds for St. Jude’s, a hospital that provides the best medical care to children with cancer and other life-threatening diseases regardless of their ability to pay. Data processing courses planned

Several courses in the rapidly growing field of data processing will be offered this fall by the Panola College Business and Industry Department. The courses are designed for those who want to learn the basics of data processing or for those who already have some knowledge but want to improve their skills.

The courses will be offered on a part-time basis and will be taught at Panola College’s main campus in Carthage. The courses will cover topics such as data entry, data analysis, and data management. Students will have the opportunity to work on real-world projects and will receive hands-on training in the latest data processing software.

The courses will be taught by experienced instructors who have extensive experience in the data processing field. Classes will be held on evenings and weekends to accommodate the schedules of working students.

The courses will be open to both high school graduates and adults who want to retrain for a career in data processing. Students will have the opportunity to earn college credits and may be eligible for financial aid.

For more information about the data processing courses, please contact the Panola College Business and Industry Department at 903-691-2135.

Grapes, Milam are sentenced after pleas

Terms set after plea bargaining

By MAXWELL KNIGHT

Milam, 35, was sentenced to prison by Judge Billie S. Miller, Friday morning, with parole probable after he had pleaded guilty to one count of killing and one count of assault with intent to murder. The defendant had been charged with murder in the death of his wife, 33-year-old Frances G. Milam, who was killed in an automobile accident in the Panola County Courthouse parking lot on Oct. 15. The defendant also pleaded guilty to assault with intent to murder in the same case.

The charge of murder was dropped by the district attorney, who had been seeking the death penalty. The defendant was sentenced to five years in the Texas Department of Corrections. The sentence was suspended pending the completion of a work release program at the Panola County Jail. The defendant is eligible for parole in five years.

The defense attorney, Assistant District Attorney Robert L. Harris, made a plea bargain with the defendant on the murder charge. Under the terms of the plea bargain, the defendant agreed to plead guilty to the murder charge and to be sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. The defense attorney also agreed to recommend that the defendant be granted parole after five years.

The defendant is currently serving a sentence of 10 years in the Texas Department of Corrections for the assault with intent to murder charge. He is eligible for parole after 10 years.

The defendant has a history of criminal convictions, including a conviction for armed robbery in 1975 and a conviction for burglary in 1976. He has served a total of 14 years in prison for these convictions.

75 percent of crime drug related — Dean

By MARSHALL DOUGLAS

The latest report from the Texas Department of Criminal Justice shows that 75 percent of all crimes in the state are drug related. The report, based on data collected from 40,000 inmates in the state prison system, shows that drug-related crimes account for 75 percent of all offenses committed in Texas.

The report also shows that the majority of drug-related crimes are offenses involving marijuana, cocaine, and methamphetamine. The report notes that these drugs are the most commonly used drugs in the state, and that the majority of drug-related crimes involve the sale and distribution of these drugs.

Gary board deadlocked over settlement

By TOLUS ZUMMER

The Gary school board has been deadlocked over a settlement of a $40,000 contract dispute with the Gary Police Department. The dispute involves a contract that was signed in 1975, and the police department has been unable to agree to a settlement of the dispute.

The police department has been trying to negotiate a settlement with the school board for the past year, but has been unable to come to an agreement. The police department has offered to pay the school board $40,000 to settle the dispute, but the school board has refused to accept the offer.

The police department has filed a lawsuit against the school board, and the case is currently pending in the court of appeals. The police department is seeking a court order to enforce the contract and to compel the school board to pay the $40,000.
