Nurses salary cuts rescinded, board revises pay reductions

Following nearly three years of deliberation, the Board of Directors of the nonprofit South Texas General Hospital, located in Carthage, Texas, recently approved a new salary structure for nurses. According to hospital officials, the new plan is expected to increase the hospital's profitability and improve patient care. The board has reportedly been working on the issue for several years, but the new program was not implemented until now due to the hospital's financial difficulties. The new plan includes increased salaries for all nurses, with increases ranging from 5% to 10%. The board also approved a new benefit package, including health insurance and retirement contributions. The new plan is expected to go into effect on July 1, 1985. Board adopts stronger ambulance service policy

Specific guidelines have been established by the Pennsylvania County Ambulance Service Board and the emergency medical services (EMS) program to enhance the safety and quality of services provided by EMS agencies. The emergency service program includes regulations, policies, and procedures for various aspects of EMS operations, such as patient care, vehicle maintenance, and personnel training. The policy states that the consumer will be charged for service rendered, and that the number of times a consumer will be charged will depend on the circumstances. Murvaul boaters beware

Banks in the area Murvaul are better off. Murphy Fitch Co. was the only bank in the state that had a branch in the area. Other banks in the area have withdrawn their services. Fitch said that the closure was due to the lack of demand for services. The closure has impacted the local economy, as the bank was a major source of employment for the area. The closure has also impacted the local community, as the bank was a major source of support for local organizations and charities. The closure has been met with a mix of reactions from the community, with some expressing concern and others expressing relief. Legislators: "They didn't raise 'taxes' any. They just found another way to spell it"

Our Texas politicians are getting more crafty in the way they raise your taxes. Gone are the days when they simply called it a "tax." Now they have found a new way to do it: "fee." It's like they're saying, "You didn't pay more taxes, you paid more fees!"

The latest example of this is the "School Board" tax reform. Instead of raising property taxes, which is what they used to do, they're now looking to increase "fees." This is a clever way to raise your taxes without actually raising your taxes.

But the real question is, why are they doing this? Is it because they're running out of money? Or is it because they want to "innovate" and find new ways to tax us?

Alas, the answer is probably a bit of both. However, we can't let them get away with it. We need to stand up and demand that our taxes be held accountable and that our politicians be transparent about how they plan to spend our money.

Qualifies in 300-meter hurdles

Hollie keeps Dogs' state streak alive

By THOMAS LEECH

PASSAGE - Carthage\'s Hollie Chapman qualified in the 300-meter hurdles for the state track meet last week when she ran 45.4 in the event.

Hollie keeps Dogs' state streak alive

Chapman, a junior, was one of four Carthage runners to advance to the finals of the 1986 State Track Meet that will be held in Tyler this weekend.

The state qualifiers were selected on Saturday at the Region I-AAA meet in Palestine.

Hollie, who qualified in the hurdles and in the 100-meter dash, will be one of four Carthage runners to compete in the 300-meter hurdles.

Carthage\'s other qualifiers are Larry Reese, who qualified in the 100-meter dash, and Chris Moore, who qualified in the 200-meter dash.

Chapman\'s qualifying time of 45.4 in the hurdles was good enough to tie her with two other runners for third place.

The Carthage sprint relay team qualified in the finals with a time of 45.13.

The Bulldogs will be looking to qualify in the 440-meter relay, the 1,600-meter relay, and the 400-meter relay.

The Bulldogs\' other qualifiers are Chris Moore, who qualified in the 200-meter dash, and Larry Reese, who qualified in the 100-meter dash.

Chapman\'s qualifying time in the 100-meter dash was 11.5, which was good enough to tie her with two other runners for third place.

Carthage downtown changes noted

By Bruce Halsell

During the recent construction on the old Burlington line, Carthage Avenue became one of the most congested areas in the city. People were forced to look for alternate routes to get around the construction zone.

Trivial Facts

By Lee

The greatest nonsense ever invented by the government of one sovereign nation against the government of another is that of 36,500,000 Chinese during the regime of Meinung between 1911 and 1913. This operation was made by the Russians in a matter of 11 years. Another fact is that the oldest egg ever reported was one of 116 days, with a shell 3 inches thick, laid by a white Leghorn at Vineyard, New York, on November 25, 1905. The record egg weighed one of nearly 12 oz. On June 18, 1919, a nutcracker crashed into the sun when the sun rose, and you don't.
