Gallagher lauds hospital following emergency

Just three weeks ago, Petty Officer Gallagher was hit by a stray bullet while he was serving aboard the USS Battleship. He was airlifted to the nearest hospital, where he underwent surgery for his injuries.

Gallagher, a well-known local figure, expressed his gratitude for the teamwork and dedication of the medical staff at the hospital.

"I want to thank the doctors, nurses, and support staff at the county hospital," Gallagher said. "Their professionalism and care during my hospitalization was second to none."

Emergency medical technicians brought Gallagher to the hospital and the prompt medical attention he received saved his life.

"People in this area are fortunate," said Dr. Johnson, the hospital's surgeon in charge. "We have a dedicated team of professionals deriving our patients through some very tough times."

Gallagher's history of emergency services is well-known in the area.
His selflessness and courage have been an inspiration to many.

"In times of crisis, it's reassuring to know that we have such a talent team working together," Gallagher said. "Their dedication to saving lives is truly remarkable."

Storm safety tips offered

The National Weather Service advises the public to be prepared and informed during storm season. Here are some tips:

1. The damaging pressure associated with thunderstorms can cause severe weather conditions, including high winds, heavy rain, and lightning. It's important to stay informed and take precautions to prevent injuries or property damage.

2. Stay alert to the weather forecast and be prepared to evacuate if necessary. If you hear a tornado warning, take shelter immediately in a sturdy building or seek an underground shelter.

3. Keep a safe distance from potential hazards such as downed power lines or trees. Avoid standing under trees or standing in open fields during a thunderstorm.

4. Stay tuned to local news and weather channels for updates and advice from emergency management officials.
