Murvaul Water Supply users angry about continued problems

Murvaul Water Supply users are being kept on edge because of a lack of reliable water service. According to a recent survey conducted by the water board, more than 80% of the residents said they were dissatisfied with the quality and reliability of their water service. The water board has acknowledged that there have been issues with the treatment facility, leading to occasional contamination and taste issues. Residents have expressed frustration with the lack of communication from the water board and the slow pace of resolving these problems. The water board has promised to implement a more robust monitoring system and to work with the local health department to ensure the water is safe to drink. However, many users remain skeptical and are calling for more action to improve the situation.
Emerald Forest actor signs autographs

Pamela Bobbitt, star of the current Broadway musical, "The Sound of Music," was in town this week to sign autographs for the children of the Emerald Forest School District. The school board had arranged for Bobbitt to make a special trip to the district to meet with students and sign autographs. The event was well-attended, with hundreds of students showing up to meet the famous actress. Bobbitt was in high spirits and took the time to greet each child personally, signing autographs and posing for photographs. The event was a huge success and the students were thrilled to have had the opportunity to meet one of their favorite actresses.

Stake driven for county wildcat

Della-Joel Smith, a recent graduate of the University of Texas at Austin, has been named the new director of the county's wildlife management program. Smith was recently appointed to the position after the previous director, Bob Montgomery, announced his retirement. Smith brings a wealth of experience to the role, having worked as a wildlife biologist for several years. He is dedicated to preserving the county's wildlife resources and is already working on several initiatives to support the county's wildcat population. Smith has plans to implement a new program to monitor the wildcat population and to establish a wildcat rehabilitation center.

Hargrett says SS may no longer be issue

Social Security may no longer be an issue on the Maricopa County Superior Court ballot in the upcoming election. According to a recent statement by County Attorney Dennis Hargrett, the issue of Social Security has not been raised in any of the cases currently before the court. Hargrett has said that the issue is unlikely to come up in future cases, and he is hopeful that the issue will be resolved once and for all. The court has been dealing with the issue of Social Security for several years, and Hargrett is pleased that the issue may finally be put to rest.

Country to transport convicts

Pendleton County Sheriff's Office officials were gathered this morning at the county jail to transport a group of convicts to a prison in Texas. The convicts, who were serving life sentences, were loaded into a囚车 and taken to the prison. Sheriff's officials said that the transportation was a routine operation and that the convicts were well taken care of. The operation was supervised by Sheriff Bill Smith and was carried out without any incidents.

Property owner says will repair house

Members of the Hilltop Association are demanding that the owner of the house on 10th Street repair a leak in the roof. The association has repeatedly asked the owner to repair the leak, but the owner has ignored the requests. The association has met with the owner and has offered to pay for the repairs, but the owner has refused. The association is now preparing to take legal action to force the owner to repair the roof.

CJH Industrial Arts group wins third

Six members of the Carthage Junior High School Industrial Arts team will be attending the state competition next week. The team will be competing in the areas of welding, woodworking, and metalworking. The Carthage Industrial Arts team has a long history of success in state and national competitions, and the team is expected to perform well. The team members are working hard to prepare for the competition, and they are looking forward to representing their school.

The team was able to successfully complete the welding tasks, and the judges were impressed with their skills. The team members are now preparing for the national competition, and they are looking forward to the opportunity to represent their school on a national stage.
Writer says Chapman follows tradition

Dear Editor:

I am aware that any story has the ability to be told in many different ways. In the case of the recent events surrounding the Chapman family, the story could have been told in a variety of ways. However, I am concerned that the way it has been told has been overshadowed by the events that followed.

In my opinion, the Chapman family has been depicted as a family that has been followed by tradition. This is not to say that the Chapman family has not followed tradition, but rather that the way it has been told has been overshadowed by the events that have occurred.

I am concerned that the Chapman family has been depicted as a family that has been followed by tradition, but rather that the way it has been told has been overshadowed by the events that have occurred.

Water district restricts alcohol, hears sewage report

By R. E. Brown
The Cotton Valley Water District Board of Directors met on July 15 to discuss a proposal to restrict the sale of alcohol in the district.

The board heard a report by District Manager J. D. Brown on the current status of the sewage system in the district. The report stated that the system was in good shape, but that there were some areas that needed improvement.

The board also heard a report by District Engineer R. E. Brown on the proposed restrictions on the sale of alcohol. The report stated that the restrictions would help to prevent alcohol-related accidents and improve the overall safety of the district.

The board voted in favor of the proposed restrictions, and approved the report on the sewage system.

The next meeting of the Cotton Valley Water District Board of Directors will be held on August 19.

Can't pull state berth out of hat for 15-16 stars

Panola's Magic Man runs out of tricks

By TERRY LEACH

NACCAGEMORES - The Magic Man's trademark sleigh and his trusty horse, Scrap, are gone. But Panola still has a chance for a state berth.

The Magic Man has been a staple of the school's football program for the past several years, providing entertainment and motivation for the players. His sleigh and horse have become a symbol of the school's tradition and history.

But the Magic Man's sleigh and horse were recently stolen, leaving the school without a means to transport the players to away games. The school is now seeking donations to replace the sleigh and horse.

The Magic Man's sleigh and horse were valued at over $10,000, and the school is hoping to raise enough money to replace them. The school has already received several donations, and the community is encouraged to contribute.

Beckville-Carthage Gamblers

Different degrees for the two pitchers were frequently determined by the batter’s ability to hit the ball, and the pitcher’s ability to throw it. Beckville-Carthage played a tough game against Davis County in the district tournament. The Gamblers were defeated by the Devils, 10-9, after leading by one run.

Beckville-Carthage has been a dominant team in the district, and they have been playing well. They have a strong pitching rotation and a solid defense. The Gamblers are led by their starting pitcher, who has been consistently strong all season. He has a winning record and has been dominant against most of the teams in the district.

Beckville-Carthage will face Davis County in their next game. The Gamblers will be looking to continue their winning streak and solidify their position at the top of the district standings. They are currently in the lead, and a win against Davis County would put them further ahead.

The district tournament is just around the corner, and the Gamblers are likely to face some tough competition. They will need to continue to play well and perform their best to have a chance of winning the tournament.

Beckville-Carthage has already shown that they are capable of winning big games, and they will be looking to do it again in their upcoming games. The Gamblers have a tough schedule ahead, but they are well-prepared to take on the challenge.

Beckville-Carthage will need to continue to work hard and stay focused if they want to make it to the district tournament. They have the talent and experience to do it, and they will need to bring their A-game to the table. The Gamblers are looking forward to the challenge and are ready to take on anyone who comes their way.

First Things First

By Pam Pape

Over the Christmas season, churches are a popular destination. Many people use the holidays as an opportunity to reconnect with God or to explore spirituality. When people attend services, many are just passing through. They have no intention of becoming members of the church. However, others are seriously considering membership.

We spoke recently with Dr. Don Hopkins, First Baptist Church of Dallas, about the process of inviting people into membership. He explained that it is important to have a clear understanding of what membership entails before inviting someone to join.

Dr. Hopkins emphasized that membership is about more than just attending church. It involves making a commitment to live a Christ-centered life and to support the church’s mission and vision. He encouraged churches to be intentional in their approach to inviting people to become members.

Strengthen For Living

By Dr. Jerry Burnette

Sermons are often about reaching for the moon. In so many ways, we believe that what we have to do is just impossible. It takes a faith that is so strong that it can only be described as superhuman.

We have a verse in Matthew 17:20 that says, “And when the disciples came near to where Jesus was, they woke him up and said, ‘Don’t you care if we are drowning?’”

Dr. Burnette pointed out that this verse is not about the disciples needing help. It is about Jesus being able to help the disciples. The disciples were in a desperate situation, but they still had faith that Jesus could save them.

Dr. Burnette encouraged us to have faith that is strong enough to trust in God even when we can’t see how things will turn out.

Upper Room

By Renton Napier

God gave a message to Renton Napier about the Upper Room, a room that was used by Jesus and his disciples for eating, teaching, and prayer. Napier said, “I had a vision of the Upper Room and felt that God wanted me to write about it.”

Napier wrote a book titled “The Upper Room: A Journey of Faith.” He said, “I wanted to share my journey of faith and encourage others to seek God’s guidance in their own lives.”

Napier’s book is available at most bookstores or online. He encourages readers to read it and to pray for guidance on their own journeys of faith.

Religious News

A group of people were gathered in a church sanctuary, waiting for the pastor to announce the next event. The pastor stood up and said, "Next on our agenda is the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the church building." The congregation erupted in applause as the pastor continued, "We are honored to have you all here today as we celebrate this milestone."

BE SURE TO PUT FAITH ON YOUR LIST OF VACATION NEEDS

If you are preparing for your vacation this year, you have undoubtedly made a list of all the things you will need for the trip. Among other essentials, you will probably include sunscreen, sports equipment, camera and camping gear. If it is an essential, then you need to know that should be on your list is your access to a religious experience. Whatever your destination, you should be to God will protect you along the way and see that you find a House of Worship. You should consider that you are traveling a few steps within the religious presence. In fact, they will have more significance than you imagine. It happens to be a sacred area where the worship is not only from your own but also from the souls of people. This is a time that God has been there before you, and the time you will need you whenever you go

If the grass looks greener on the other side of the fence, you are not alone. In 2019, more than a third of Americans moved within or out of the state. However, the cost of living in one state compared to another can vary widely. For example, the cost of living in a northern state is about half of the cost in a southern state. This is just one of the many factors to consider when deciding where to move. Call us today for more information, 693-0352.
