Texas Capitol trade agreement with Mexico

By Rev. Michael P. Ryan

The Texas Capitol trade agreement with Mexico is a significant development in the state's economic relationship with its southern neighbor. The agreement was signed by Texas Governor Greg Abbott and Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador. The agreement will allow for the sharing of information on economic development and tourism, and will also facilitate the exchange of business professionals. The agreement is seen as a positive step in strengthening the economic ties between the two states.

"Any budget is better than no budget"

Make sure to keep your budget in check. It's easy to overspend and end up with no money left. Make sure to prioritize your expenses and cut unnecessary spending. This way, you can still enjoy the things you love without breaking the bank. Remember, budgeting is the key to financial success.
