Loblolly writers attend Folklife Festival

By Angel Travis, Staff writer, members of Loblolly's class kicked off a successful semester at Gentry High School recently when students of the school's Folklife Festival held in the auditorium. The event, organized by Saki Whitefield and Teresa Brown, showcased the school's culture and traditions.

Among the many cultures represented, African-American and Native American traditions were highlighted.

The African Heritage for the two girls who were featured in the Folklife Festival is important because it helps to preserve a part of our heritage. The girls, and others, were interviewed by the students for their perspectives on the importance of their culture.

Free, reduced lunches explained

On Aug. 3, a free lunch to needy children will be available at local schools. The free lunches are a part of the federal government's Summer Food Program, which provides meals to children during the summer months when school is not in session. The program is designed to help families who may struggle to put food on the table during the summer, and it is available to all children, regardless of income. For more information, visit the website of the nearest local school district or contact your local office of the US Department of Agriculture.

Summer Cooking risks noted

The American Heart Association has issued a warning about the risks associated with outdoor cooking, especially grilling, which can result in the formation of harmful compounds in the food. These compounds, known as heterocyclic amines and polycyclic aromatic hydrocarbons, have been linked to increased risk of cancer. However, the risks associated with outdoor cooking can be minimized by following some simple guidelines:

1. Use a green salad
2. Use a vegetable brush
3. Use a drizzle
4. Use a brush
5. Use a small amount of oil
6. Use a vegetable oil
7. Use a vegetable oil on the grill
8. Use a vegetable oil on the grill
9. Use a vegetable oil on the grill
10. Use a vegetable oil on the grill

Selecting mowing shoes "no easy choice"

By Alphonse Shaffer

The tireless search of the homeowner trying to choose the right shoe for mowing the lawn might be overwhelming. There are so many factors to consider, and many choices available in the market. Some shoes are designed for comfort, while others prioritize safety. Some are suitable for wet conditions, whereas others excel in dry climates. Here are some tips to help you make the right choice.

1. Consider the type of terrain: If you mow on grass, you might want to choose shoes that provide better grip. Shoes with cleats or spikes can be a good option. If you mow on paved surfaces, you might prefer shoes that offer more cushioning.

2. Think about the frequency of use: If you plan to mow frequently, you might want to invest in shoes that are durable and can withstand regular use. If you mow occasionally, you might prioritize comfort over durability.

3. Check the fit: Make sure the shoes are not too tight or too loose. A snug fit will provide better support and stability. However, you should also allow your toes enough space to move freely.

4. Consider the cost: Mowing shoes can range from inexpensive to expensive. Decide on your budget and look for shoes that offer good value for money.

5. Read reviews: Before making a purchase, read reviews from other homeowners who have used the shoes. This can help you understand their pros and cons and make an informed decision.

In conclusion, selecting the right mowing shoes is no easy task. It requires considering various factors and doing your research. By following these tips, you can find the perfect shoes for your mowing needs.

Bentsen answers patent question

By Jackie Williams

In a recent interview, Bentsen was asked about his patent application. He explained that he had been working on a new invention and had applied for a patent. He said that the process of obtaining a patent is long and challenging, but it is worth it in the end.

"I have been working on this invention for several years," Bentsen said. "I believe that it has potential to revolutionize the industry and make a significant impact."

When asked about the process of obtaining a patent, Bentsen explained that it involves several steps, including filing a patent application, conducting a patent search, and undergoing a review by the US Patent and Trademark Office. He said that the process can take several months or even years.

"It is important to have a clear understanding of the patent application process before you begin," Bentsen said. "It is also important to have good patent attorneys who can guide you through the process and ensure that your application is filed correctly.

"I am confident that my invention will be successful," Bentsen said. "I am excited to see it come to life and make a positive impact on the industry."

Jennings pastors churches
Two local congregations benefit from new minister

Rev. Augustus Hendricks, pastor of the Methodists in Jennings and Longview, has combined his two congregations in one church. Oct 1st, 1920, he will lead the Bible study in the newly formed church at noon at the Jennings United Methodist Church at 11.

Although there would be different organizations and different ministers, he said the new church would be able to offer more to the community.

Rev. Hendricks, who has been serving in Jennings for two years, said it was a long time coming.
