DA requests new assistant

The decision to grant a park to a group of individuals was made by the Department of Community Affairs, the city's main planning and development agency. The group had been trying to acquire a park for several years, and their application was rejected several times. However, they were recently granted a permit to use the park for their event.

Building permit numbers show recovery from last year

The city of Potlatch has seen a significant increase in building permit applications in the past year. This is a positive sign for the local economy, as it indicates that people are investing in their communities and expanding their businesses.

Proposal encourages aquaculture research

By Jim C. Nolan. The Panola Watchman

The interest in aquaculture research continues to grow in the State of Alabama. As the demand for fish and fish products increases, there is a need to develop sustainable fishing practices and expand aquaculture operations. One such project is the Pearl River Fish Hatchery, located in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. The hatchery is dedicated to the research and cultivation of fish species, with a focus on improving their survival rates and reproductive success. The hatchery is a joint venture between Auburn University and the Alabama Department of Conservation, and it operates under the guidance of Dr. John Smith, a renowned scientist in the field of aquaculture.

TERRORISM REFLECTS HISTORY

By Alvin Miller. The Panola Watchman

Terrorism has been a major issue in recent years, with incidents occurring around the world. The attacks on the World Trade Center in 2001 and the Boston Marathon bombing in 2013 are just a few examples. The use of violence as a political tool is a serious concern, and it is important to address the underlying causes of terrorism.

Otts and Norris enlisted in Air Force

By Marv O’Connell. The Panola Watchman

Otts and Norris enlisted in the Air Force for a taste of life in the service. They had heard stories of their friends who had served in the military, and they were eager to experience the excitement and camaraderie of being part of a team. They knew it wouldn’t be easy, but they were ready for the challenge. The enlistment process was surprisingly straightforward, and they were able to start their military journey with a sense of pride and purpose.

FISH

By John Jackson. The Panola Watchman

The fishing season is in full swing, and anglers are enjoying the great weather and the opportunity to catch some fish. Whether you’re a seasoned angler or just starting out, there are plenty of spots to try your luck. The best places to fish in the area are the Pearl River, the T-Town Reservoir, and the Lake Houston. Make sure to check the local regulations and have a great time on the water.
Times changing for Chapel Hill

Think they can

By TIM LEDY

There’s been a major change and it’s paying off in big improvements for the Chapel Hill High football team. After the Panther’s 33-6 win over Orange in the conference championship game Friday, CHS head coach Danny Caruthers feels his young team is on the move.

"It’s a very proud game for our team," Caruthers said. "We’re improving each week and we’re excited about the future." Caruthers has been coaching the Panthers for just two years, but he’s already seen a noticeable change in his team’s performance.

"We were a young team last year, but we’ve grown a lot since then," Caruthers said. "Chapel Hill is making progress and we’re headed to the playoffs next year." Caruthers credited his team’s hard work and dedication for their success.

The Panthers played a strong game against Orange, holding the Panthers to just six points. Caruthers said his team’s defense was key to their success.

"Our defense is really stepping up this year," Caruthers said. "We’re making crucial stops and limiting the damage." Caruthers praised his defensive line, which he said has been the team’s strength.

The Panthers will now move on to the second round of the playoffs. Caruthers said his team is looking forward to facing the next challenge.

"We’re excited about the future," Caruthers said. "We have a lot of potential and we’re ready to face whatever comes our way." Caruthers said his team is ready to "play and give their best for the fans and the community."

Open house ends week of fire safety

By Susan C. Wilson

Fire trucks, a bouncy house, face painting, and a variety of activities entertained an estimated 500 people who attended Open House at the Carthage Fire Station on Saturday.

Approximately 500 people enjoyed the Open House, which featured food and refreshments, face painting, live entertainment, and a costume contest. A demonstration of the area of the house was given, as firefighters and crews discussed the equipment and safety measures that are in place to ensure the safety of residents.

The theme of the event was "Fire Safety Week," and the firefighters spoke about the importance of fire safety and the need to be prepared for emergencies. The event was held to coincide with National Fire Prevention Week.

On Sunday, the fire department held a "Fire Prevention Day," where children were able to experience the work of firefighters up close.

The Carthage fire department is providing fire safety tips to the community.

Carthage High School Classes of 1946-'47

Parted but never apart

By Don Bruce

The crack, clatter, shrill honk of the horn and unbridled laughter filled the Carthage High School classes of 1946 and 1947 with a joyous spirit. The days were filled with excitement and anticipation as the school prepared for its annual Homecoming event.

The Homecoming event began on October 9th with the opening ceremony in the auditorium. The classes of 1946 and 1947 were highlighted by their participation in the parade and the game.

The classes of 1946 and 1947 were represented by their students who put together a parade that was second to none. The floats were decorated with themes that were both creative and imaginative. The parade was led by the school band, which played a selection of popular songs.

The game on October 10th was a highly anticipated event. The classes of 1946 and 1947 faced off in a friendly competition that was filled with excitement and energy. The classes of 1946 emerged victorious, securing their place in the history of Carthage High School.

The Homecoming event was a success, and the classes of 1946 and 1947 were proud of their achievements. The day was filled with laughter, joy, and a sense of camaraderie that would last a lifetime.

Clouds in sky meant stars on field at Beckville homecoming

By Fran Leigh

The Beckville homecoming court was like a living canvas, the clouds in the sky painting stars on the field as the queen was crowned.

The queen, Wendy Ackerman, was announced as the winner of the homecoming coronation ceremony. She was named by the student body as the one who best personified the qualities of a queen, including leadership, beauty, and sportsmanship.

Wendy Ackerman was assisted by her court members, who were dressed in formal attire. The ceremony was held in the gymnasium, where the students and faculty gathered to witness the event.

The night was filled with music and dancing, as the band played their hearts out. The student body was dressed in their finest, and the atmosphere was electric.

After the coronation, the homecoming dance continued, with the students enjoying the music and each other's company. It was a night to remember, as the clouds in the sky painted stars on the field of Beckville high school.

Homecoming heartbreaker
Cats drop a tough one to Shelbyville 7-12

By G.W. Edmonson

For the record, Beckville High School football season ended with a heartbreaker against Shelbyville. The Cats fell short of victory, losing to Shelbyville 7-12.

The game was a tense battle, with both teams putting in their best efforts. Beckville had a strong offensive line, while Shelbyville's defense was solid.

The game was a hard-fought battle, with both teams playing well. Beckville was ahead early in the game, but Shelbyville managed to catch up and take the lead in the second half.

The Beckville defense played well, but Shelbyville's quarterback had a strong performance, leading the team to victory.

The game was a heartbreaker for the Beckville fans, who had hoped for a win. However, the Cats showed their resilience and fought till the end.

The loss was a tough one for the Beckville fans, but they remained supportive and encouraging, looking forward to next year's season.
Eagles continue streak in 35-0 win

Mistakes prove costly for 'Jackets as they drop their bid for supremacy

EAGLES BREAK TIE, CLAW TO 35-0 VICTORY

Eagles quarterback John Jones directed a five-play, 40-yard drive in the fourth quarter, which set up the Eagles' first touchdown of the day. Jones completed two passes to set up the touchdown, which was caught by Chris Mitchell in the corner of the end zone. The Eagles' defense then held on for the final 3:25 of the game to secure the victory.

OFFENSE DOMINATES, DEFENSE SHUTS DOWN 'JACKETS OFFENSE

The Eagles' offense dominated the game, scoring 35 points on four touchdowns and a field goal. The 'Jackets' offense, on the other hand, managed only three points on a field goal.

EAGLES' DEFENSE SHUTS DOWN 'JACKETS' IN THE SECOND QUARTER

In the second quarter, the Eagles' defense held the 'Jackets' to only one point, allowing the Eagles to take their first lead of the game. The defense was led by senior linebacker Jake Miller, who had six tackles and a sack. The Eagles' defense also forced two turnovers, including an interception by sophomore safety John Smith.

EAGLES' OFFENSEBUSTS THROUGH 'JACKETS' DEFENSE IN THE FIRST QUARTER

In the first quarter, the Eagles' offense scored 14 points, led by senior quarterback John Jones. Jones completed two passes for 50 yards, including a 34-yard touchdown pass to tight end Tyler Johnson. The Eagles also rushed for 65 yards on six carries, led by senior running back Tyler Davis.
