Wood corrals need extra care

By Ann C. Corre

Correl's report meets high marks for simplicity and clarity. The club's efforts to reduce costs and increase membership have resulted in a significant increase in the number of members. The club president has been working closely with the board of directors to ensure that the club's financial goals are met. The president has also been successful in recruiting new members, and the club's membership has increased by 20% over the past year. The club's success is due in part to the president's leadership and the dedication of the club's members.

Gas production down from same period last year

By Jim A. Swope

Gas production in the state of Texas has decreased from the same period last year. The decrease is due to a decrease in the number of wells in production. The number of wells in production in the state has decreased by 10% over the past year. The decrease in production is expected to continue over the next few years due to the depletion of the state's gas reserves.

Firemen battle home fires

By John B. White

Firefighters in the city worked hard this week to prevent a major fire from spreading. A fire started in a home on Main Street and quickly spread to an adjacent building. The firefighters worked for several hours to contain the fire and prevent it from spreading further. They were successful in stopping the fire before it could cause significant damage.

Local voters reject twelve amendments

Although voters in Texas approved a majority of the state's amendments, they rejected twelve of the amendments. The amendments that were rejected included changes to the state's education funding, tax laws, and environmental regulations. The voters were concerned about the potential impact of the amendments on their daily lives and voted against them.

Champlin plant ranks 11th

There used to be a large kiln house set on an 1,000-acre tract near Carthage that included a large barn and a large mill. It was in 1910 that the factory was sold to the family of J.J. Champlin. The old mill was replaced in 1933 by a new one that was larger and more modern. In 1958, it was decided to modernize the plant and the old mill was purchased by the Carthage Drug Co. The new mill was built in 1960 and has been in operation ever since. Today, it is one of the largest and most modern plants in Texas.

JACKSONVILLE BEAT Carthage, 34-6

By TED SANCHEZ

Jacksonville continued its domination of Carthage in 1988, beating the visiting Wildcats, 34-6. The victory was Jacksonville's second over Carthage in the last nine meetings.

Jacksonville went 6-5 overall and 4-1 in District 8-5A, while Carthage fell to 6-5 overall and 4-1 in the district, eliminating both teams from playoff contention.

The game was marked by its defensive struggles, with both teams committing errors that allowed the other to score.

The game started with an exchange of punts, but Jacksonville quickly advanced to the Carthage 32-yard line on a series of three consecutive completions. A holding penalty nullified the play, and Jacksonville lost yardage on its next play, setting up a punt.

Carthage's punt was blocked by Jacksonville's defensive tackle, who recovered the ball at the Carthage 15-yard line. The Wildcats were penalized for a personal foul, but the ball on the 10-yard line was ruled a touchback.

The game continued on a see-saw basis, with both teams struggling on offense.

Jacksonville led 14-6 at halftime. In the second half, Carthage had four turnovers, while Jacksonville had one.

Three Jacksonville players were named to the first-team All-District 8-5A team, while five Carthage players were named to the second team. The game was played at the Jacksonville Memorial Stadium.

Yellowjackets rout Shelbyville, 32-0

Final regular season encounter ended after third quarter Donneybrook

By Chuck Johnson

Shelbyville, Ill. - The final seconds ticked away on the clock, and the Shelbyville High School football team walked off the field with a big smile on their faces. The Yellowjackets had just defeated their rival, the Donneybrook High School Tigers, by a score of 32-0.

The game was a defensive battle from the start, with both teams struggling to score. However, the Yellowjackets were able to capitalize on their opportunities, scoring two touchdowns in the first quarter and two more in the second quarter to take a commanding lead.

The game was called off in the third quarter due to severe weather conditions. The Yellowjackets continued to dominate in the fourth quarter, but the game was stopped due to the weather.

The victory was a much-needed boost for the Yellowjackets, who had struggled throughout the season. Head coach, Coach Smith, was pleased with the win and credited his team's hard work and dedication for the victory.

Taxidermy: Next best thing to real life

By Mary Leigh Best

J. T. Williams of Tarkington is a master of the art of taxidermy, a craft that has been passed down from generation to generation in his family. Through his expertise, he fills a need for something a bit unusual and unique. Whether it's a rabbit, deer, or any other animal, J. T. Williams has the skills to preserve the memory of it for eternity, perhaps as a gift or for display.

Willems has a passion for animals and finds satisfaction in preserving their memories through his work. He has been taxidermning for over 20 years and has gained a reputation for his high-quality work and attention to detail. His studio is located on a family farm, which provides him with ample space to work on his projects.

J. T. Williams believes that taxidermy is not just a job, but a way to preserve the beauty and uniqueness of animals. He takes pride in ensuring that each animal is preserved in its most natural state, allowing people to appreciate the beauty and grace of these creatures even after they are gone.

J. T. Williams is proud of his accomplishments and the work he does. He enjoys sharing his craft with others and hopes to inspire a new generation of taxidermists to follow in his footsteps. His passion for this art form continues to grow, and he looks forward to creating more beautiful pieces for years to come.

Williams seems to have a problem with snakes and bobcats in his backyard.
Lutherans to open Carthage mission

By Pay S. Stoner

For the first time in its history, the Eastern Montana Synod is planning to open a mission in Carthage. The mission will be a ministry of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

The mission will be located in the former Park Hotel. The building has been purchased by the church and will be converted into a home for the mission. The mission will be open to all people, regardless of their background or beliefs.

The mission will offer a variety of programs and services, including a food pantry, a clothing bank, and a community center. The mission will also provide a space for community events and meetings.

"We hope that this mission will be a place where people can come together and support one another," said Rev. Tim Zech, the pastor in charge of the mission.

The mission is expected to open in September.

 indoors. After 17 years, he developed a new interest in the city, and he is now working on a book about the history of Carthage.

The mission will be a part of the city's cultural heritage. The building is listed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The mission will be led by Rev. Tim Zech, who has served as the pastor of the Lutheran Church in Carthage for 17 years. He is a native of Carthage and has a deep connection to the community.

Rev. Zech said that the mission will be a place where people can come together and find support.

"We want to create a welcoming space where people can come and feel at home," said Rev. Zech.

"We want to be a part of the community and help people in any way we can."
