Santa Claus hears
525 Christmas wishes

"I think the most important thing that Santa Claus can do is to bring joy to the children," said Santa Claus. "I have been visiting children for many years, and I always enjoy seeing their happy faces."

The children visited Santa Claus at the local mall on December 18th. They expressed their wishes and dreams for Christmas. Santa Claus listened to each child with care and replied with kindness.

One little girl said, "I want a unicorn for Christmas," and Santa Claus gave her a small toy unicorn. The children were very happy and exclaimed, "Thank you, Santa Claus!"

Santa Claus distributed presents to all the children. He also spoke to the parents, who thanked him for his effort. "Thank you for making our children happy," said one parent.

Santa Claus wished everyone a happy holiday and said, "May your Christmas be filled with love and joy."

Best Intentions

By Mary Leigh Best

I thought it was wonderful to see every member of the Coosa County community, particularly those of the same group, participate in the Christmas tree lighting ceremony. The event was a success and everyone seemed to enjoy themselves.

The ceremony began with the3 singing of "Silent Night" by the choir, followed by the reading of a special prayer by the pastor. Then, the mayor announced the start of the ceremony and everyone gathered around the Christmas tree. The tree was lit with candles and sparklers, and the crowd cheered as the lights illuminated the tree. People were seen taking photos and videos, and some even brought their own cameras to capture the moment.

The celebration continued with a performance by the local band, and everyone enjoyed the music and festive atmosphere. Finally, the mayor declared the ceremony closed and everyone dispersed to enjoy the holiday season.

It was a heartwarming event that brought the community together and set the tone for the upcoming holidays. It is important to remember the true meaning of Christmas and celebrate with others.

Lynne Hille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hille, located in the aquamarine-colored house on the corner of 10th and 15th Streets, was in a quandary. She needed a new dress for the upcoming school dance, and she had no money to buy one. She had been saving up for it for months, but it was not enough to cover the cost of the dress she wanted. She decided to ask her parents for help, but she was not sure how to approach the subject. She knew that they were always trying to save money and that they might not have enough to spare. She decided to write a letter to them, explaining her situation and asking for their help.

Meanwhile, Mary and her husband, Dr. Fred Hille, were preparing for the dance. They had already decided on the location and the theme of the dance, and they were busy planning the details. They knew that it would be a big event, and they wanted it to be perfect. They were also planning to decorate the house, and they were looking forward to seeing all of the students dressed up and having a good time.

As Lynne wrote her letter, she thought about the dance and the dress. She was excited about the opportunity to show off her new dress, and she was also nervous about the responsibility of choosing the right dress. She knew that it was important to look good at the dance, and she wanted to make sure that she did.

Real earnings decreased in October

Real earnings, which are a measure of the purchasing power of wages and salaries, decreased in October. The decline in real earnings was due to a 3.5% increase in the consumer price index (CPI) and a 2.5% decrease in average hourly earnings. The CPI increase was driven by higher prices for food, housing, and energy. The decrease in average hourly earnings was due to a slowdown in productivity growth.

Overtime loss leaves PJC eighth
Ponies in precarious spot in conference race

By LES LICK
Sports Editor

When the final scoreboard read, Ponies lost by one point, and the PJC fans were left with a lingering feeling of 'what might have been.' The Ponies' fate was sealed in overtime, as the Newcomb Tigers took the lead and held onto it, leaving the Ponies in eighth place in the conference standings.

The game was a rollercoaster, with both teams fighting hard for their victory. The Newcomb Tigers started strong, taking the lead early in the game. The Ponies, however, fought back, and by halftime, the game was tied at 34.

In the second half, the game got even more intense as both teams swapped the lead multiple times. The Ponies had a few moments of dominance, but the Tigers were always close behind, making it a nail-biting game for the fans.

The overtime period began with both teams showing their determination. The Newcomb Tigers started strong, scoring a crucial point to take the lead. The Ponies, however, were not ready to give up, and they fought back hard, but the Tigers held on to their lead, securing the victory.

For the Ponies, the loss was a tough pill to swallow, especially after they had played so well throughout the game. The team, however, showed their resilience and fought hard until the end.

The Ponies' next game will be a crucial one, as they aim to move up in the conference standings. The team will have to put this loss behind them and focus on their next game, as they are looking to secure a win and move closer to the top of the conference.

Despite the loss, the Ponies' fans showed their support and encouragement, which the team appreciated. The team is looking forward to the next game and is ready to give it their all to secure a win.

The Ponies' ongoing journey is a testament to their determination and resilience. The team is looking to improve and get stronger with each game, and with their fans' support, they are ready to face any challenge that comes their way.

White assumes duties at mental health clinic

James A. White of Marshall, Service Valley Regional Health Center's director of Administrative and Emergency Services, has been named director of Mental Health Services.

"The department has many challenges, primarily, and the state (Texas) is not doing as well as it should. I've been working with mental health issues for a very long time, and I think it's important to do some of the things you need to do to bring the state up," White said.

The program has 1,500 patients, and White said he has a lot to learn about the program's issues. He said he is also interested in the community and the mental health needs of the people in the county.

Hello, folks. Hope everyone is happy with the weather. It's still quite warm outside, considering the fact that it's December. No snow, no ice, just a lot of sunshine. I hope everyone is enjoying their holiday season. The weather is perfect for outdoor activities, so get out there and enjoy it.

The Lennox Power Minder heat pump is easy to use and very efficient. I've used it for several years now and have always been satisfied with its performance. It's also very quiet, which is a big plus for me. I highly recommend it to anyone looking for a reliable and efficient heating solution.

Thanks for reading. I hope you have a great holiday season.
