Grade Scale (based on 1000 total points possible)
A = 900-1000
B = 800-899
C = 700-799
D = 600-699
F = 0-599

Orientation/Start Here
Read the course syllabus
Do the Introductory Discussion Board (25 points).
Do the Plagiarism Tutorial
Do the Orientation Quiz (15 points)

Chapter Work
For each Unit, do the following in the order they appear in the Modules section:
1. Read the Chapter
2. Watch the Chapter PowerPoint
3. Watch the Chapter Video Lecture.
4. Do the Chapter Discussion board.
5. Study and then take the Chapter Quiz.
6. Post and comment about something relating to the author studied in the chapter or philosophy in general. Be sure to write 3-4 sentences explaining your thoughts on the article or video you posted.
7. Do the Unit Applied Philosophy Paper.
8. Review the Unit Test study questions.
9. Watch the Unit Test Review Video.
10. Study and then take the Unit Exam.

Chapter Quizzes (225 points)
There are 10 chapter quizzes.

Unit Tests (300 points)
There are three unit tests in this course (the Unit 3 Test is the Final Exam). The time limit for the unit exams is 60 minutes. You make take the Unit Exams only once. Before taking the test, make sure you study.

Course Philosophy Paper (100 points)
There is a course philosophy paper in the course. See instructions for this paper on Canvas. Any plagiarism or academic dishonesty on this paper may result in an automatic F for the course.

Discussion Boards (340 points)
There are nine discussion boards. Each chapter discussion board is worth 25 points (10 points for the Concluding Discussion Board). To get the full 25 points, you must write a 250-300-word response to the given prompt (use your word processor to count the number of words and include that at the end of your post). Your response should carefully address all parts of the question in a coherent, organized, and professional manner. You must also respond to someone else’s post with a 100-word response (use word court again).

Your responses should be your own words. Do not cut and paste - this is plagiarism. If you do quote the textbook or other sources, be sure to use parenthetical citation or footnotes for proper attribution. If you cut and paste and do not use your own words, you may be cited for plagiarism, reported the College, given a 0 on the assignment, and an F in the course. You may also face possible disciplinary action by the College.

You will primarily be graded on the completeness of your posts. Make sure you read the comments made on your posts.

Late Work Policy
Ample time has been allotted to complete all assignments. All assignments are expected on or before the deadline indicated in the syllabus. Any student that needs to submit a late assignment should contact me in advance of the deadline for approval (which may or may not be granted) and to make alternative arrangements or the assignment may receive a reduced grade or a 0 at the discretion of the instructor.

Grading Time: Work done in this course will generally be graded with a week of being turned in by the student.

Census Date: The census date for this course is listed in the academic calendar on the College website. Students who have not completed an assignment by this date will be reported to the College and to financial aid as non-attending and may be dropped from the course.

Withdrawal Policy: The last day to withdraw from this course with a W is on the College website. It is the student’s responsibility to drop the course; I cannot do it for you. Students who fail to drop the course and remain on the roll after the drop date will receive a grade based on the work they did for the class. That grade is usually an F.

Scholastic Dishonesty
Every member of the College community is expected to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. The College may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of scholastic dishonesty. Scholastic dishonesty includes, but is not limited to, statements, acts, or omissions related to applications for enrollment, credit or class work, research, the award of a degree, and/or submitting work that is not one’s own. All work submitted for credit is expected to be the student’s own work.
Scholastic dishonesty shall involve, but is not limited to, one or more of the following acts: plagiarism, cheating, collusion, use of annotated texts or teacher’s editions, use of information about exams posted on the Internet or in any electronic medium, and/or falsifying academic records. Students are expected to record honestly and accurately the results of all their research. Falsification of research results includes misrepresentations, distortions, or omissions in data or reports on research. While specific examples are listed below, this is not an exhaustive list and scholastic dishonesty may encompass other conduct, including any conduct through electronic or computerized means:

Plagiarism is the use of an author’s words or ideas as if they were one’s own without giving credit to the source, including, but not limited to, failure to acknowledge a direct quotation. In the preparation of all papers and other written work, students must distinguish their own ideas and knowledge from information derived from other sources. The term “sources” includes not only published primary and secondary materials, but also information and opinions gained directly from other people. Whenever ideas or facts are derived from a source, the student must indicate the source.

Cheating is the willful giving or receiving of information in an unauthorized manner during an examination or to complete an assignment; collaborating with another student during an examination without authority; using, buying, selling, soliciting, stealing, or otherwise obtaining course assignments and/or examination questions in advance; unauthorized copying of computer or Internet files; using someone else’s work for assignments as if it were one’s own. Student may submit or resubmit an assignment (in whole or in part) for more than one (1) class or institution without permission from the professor(s); or any other dishonest means of attempting to fulfill the requirements of a course.

Collusion is intentionally or unintentionally aiding or attempting to aid another in an act of scholastic dishonesty, including but not limited to, failing to secure academic work; providing a paper or project to another student; providing an inappropriate level of assistance or unauthorized collaboration; communicating answers to a classmate about an examination or any other course assignment; removing tests or answer sheets from a test site; and allowing a classmate to copy answers.

Students found responsible for scholastic dishonesty offenses may receive an authorized disciplinary penalty or penalties from the College. The student may also receive an academic penalty in the course where the scholastic dishonesty took place. The faculty member will determine the appropriate academic penalty. Any student who has been found to have been academically dishonest due to plagiarism, cheating, or collusion on an assignment may receive a grade of zero for the assignment and may be given an F for the course.

Texts, Materials, and Supplies:
- No books are required. Primary source readings in Philosophy will be provided in the course.
